First Negro Resident Is Surprised By Hostility In Grosse Pointe Woods

DETROIT (AP) -- The first Negro resident of the Detroit area's most exclusive section is "surprised and shocked" at the hostility that greeted him. Despite it, he says, "I'm there to stay."

A. Gordon Wright, 46, midwest regional director of the U. S. Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration, Tuesday completed his first week as a citizen of suburban Grosse Pointe Woods. It has not, he said, been a pleasant week.

"There have been cranks going up and down the street — walking, driving shouting 'nigger get out.' You name it and they've done it," Wright said in an interview today. "I just couldn't conceive of running into this sort of thing in 1966."

Grosse Pointe Woods is one of several wealthy communities on Lake St. Clair north of Detroit. The attractive, tree-shaded area is home to much of southeast Michigan's business and automotive elite. Most homes start at $30,000-$35,000.

The communities include as residents Henry Ford II, Mrs. Horace Dodge, and other members of influential and wealthy automotive families.

Three years ago this week, the area was the scene of a mile-long "antidiscrimination" march by about 500 persons and joined by Gov. George Romney.

"There is an excessive amount of discrimination in housing," Romney told a rally then. "Some practices in this particular part of the state have been reprehensible."

About 100 Grosse Pointe Woods residents gatnered Tuesday night at a meeting called by the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council to discuss the Wrights. No opposition to the family was heard.

"I came here from Washington, D. C., where I lived in an area that was previously all white," Wright said bitterly. "Now that's a town below the Mason-Dixon line where the idea of integration never occurred to anybody until Jack Kennedy hit town in 1960.

"But it was mature and sophisticated enough to realize that the times were changing," he said. "It's obvious that the word just hasn't spread this far.

$115 Billion Tax Take Is Sighted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government expects its income for the current fiscal year to rocket about $4.5 billion above original estimates, it was learned today.

The dramatic upswing in the estimated income is based on current tax rates. Any tax increase would push the total even higher.

If the new estimates materialize, tax receipts in the fiscal year which ends next June 30 would total $115 billion to $116 billion. The administration originally anticipated tax receipts at $111 billion — $1.8 billion below estimated federal spending.

Since the original estimates were made, however, there has been increased spending for the Viet Nam war and by Congress. So the expected boost in income still would not be enough to put President Johnson's budget in the black for the year.

What's the basis for the predicted increase?

Mostly an original underestimate by the Treasury Department on tax receipts, one government official said. Recent revisions by the Commerce Department of its estimates in personal income for the last 2½ years also played a role in the revision.

The possibility of a tax increase still is an open question and officials emphasized today that no decision has been made. That will depend on future developments, they said.

Some government officials have talked of a possible $10-billion tax increase next year but the new estimate of tax collections could soften that bite, if it did develop.

The administration also has come under increased pressure in recent weeks to request a tax increase to stem inflation and relieve the tight money squeeze.

Kennedy Center Builder Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — John McShain Inc. of Arlington, Va., was selected today as general contractor for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, to be built on the bank of the Potomac River here at a cost estimated well above $40 million.

Roger L. Stevens of New York, chairman of the board of trustees for the long-planned memorial to the assassinated president, authorized the General Services Administration to accept the proposal of the McShain firm to carry out the project at a fee of $249,000.

The center is intended to give Washington, for the first time, a focal point for cultural activities comparable to those of other world capitals.

Negroes, Civil Rights Occupy Demo Rivals

By The Associated Press

Negroes and civil rights occupied the attention of Michigan's two Democratic contenders for the U.S. senatorial nomination Tuesday.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams called for "People's Power" to help Negroes to help themselves in the civil rights struggle

Williams spoke to a Negro ministers' organization in Detroit. His opponent Jerome C. Cavanagh spoke to the same group last week.

Williams said, "We don't want any spoon-fed groups, but we've got to help them get the job done."

He added, "This is power. It isn't black power or white power—it's people's power.

Williams received "amens" from his audience when he called for better enforcement of civil rights legislation. He suggested specifically more federal voting registrars in the South.

He talked also about housing, education and jobs.

Meanwhile, Detroit Mayor Cavanagh warned Detroiters not to be lulled into complacency just because their city is the only major metropolitan area which hasn't experienced a race riot in recent years.

Cavanagh spoke before a gathering at the Baptist Ministers Conference in Detroit.

He said taking praise for the work done in civil rights without speaking out on the work left undone is "a form of blindness." One area which he said needs more attention is improved police-community relations.

FBI Joins In Brinks' Hunt

BOSTON (AP)—Boston police say they've given the FBI "a substantial amount of physical evidence" in the hunt for three masked men with machineguns who shot two guards and stole $68,000 from an armored car.

The noon holdup Tuesday at a Veterans' Administration hospital was the fourth armored vehicle robbery in Greater Boston since Jan. 1, with loot totaling $327,000. None has been solved.

Last Friday, four masked men, again armed with machineguns, took $131,000 in cash from a Brink's Inc., truck at the Mitre Corp. in Bedford. The money Tuesday was in cash and negotiable checks.

The two guards were not wounded seriously yesterday, but it marked the first time in the series that anyone was injured and the first time shots were fired.

The FBI entered the most recent case because the holdup occurred on government property.

At least three of the shots from the wildly-firing gunmen ripped through ground-floor windows of the Jamaica Plain hospital and into a switchboard room and an employes' lounge, but no one was hit.

Ky Urges Invasion Of North Viet Nam Now

Johnson Acts To Delay New Airline Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced that President Johnson will set up an emergency board today to postpone for 60 days a threatened strike against American Airlines by members of the Transport Workers Union.

In the absence of such action, union members would have been free to strike at 12:01 a.m. Thursday.

The announcement came shortly before a Senate committee started hearing testimony on a 20-day strike against five other airlines, to determine whether legislation is needed to force a settlement.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Johnson would sign an executive order creating the three-member board in advance of the strike deadline. He said the names of board members would be announced within 24 hours.

Under the National Railway Labor Act, the board will study the issues between the airline and the union and within 30 days submit recommendations aimed at promoting a compromise settlement.

Another 30-day period will follow in which parties to the dispute will be free to study the board's findings and, perhaps, negotiate an agreement.

That procedure already has been completed without settlement of the strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists against five airlines.

Witnesses for the five grounded airlines, the striking machinists' union and the Defense, Labor and Post Office departments open a Senate hearing on special legislation to halt the strike.

"I think it does constitute an emergency," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who appeared ready to seek quick passage if the Senate Labor Committee votes out a strike-stopping bill.

But P. L. Siemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists complained "the continued interference by the legislative branch of government is delaying the final time when agreement can be reached."

Scorpion Worst

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — One hundred and thirteen persons have died in Arizona since 1929 because of venomous animals and insects.

Prof. Herbert L. Stahnke of Arizona State University said 75 persons were killed by scorpion stings and 22 by snakebites. One person died after being bitten by a Gila monster, seven others as a result of insect stings, and another because of a centipede.

Waldo Brothers Held For Trial, Bond Is $25,000

PORTLAND, Ore.—The two Waldo brothers who were arrested Tuesday on federal warrants for the $32,000 robbery of the Bark River State Bank were ordered held for trial under $25,000 bond each when arraigned before United States Commissioner Claire Mudorff.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said the men will be eventually brought back to Michigan for trial.

Arrested were Roy E. Waldo, 34, and his brother, Clarence, 30, both of the Flint area.

A third man wanted for the robbery, Robert D. Ross, 35, also of Flint, is still at large after he escaped from the Douglas County jail at Superior, Wis., July 4

Both Have $1,000

John H. Williams, agent in charge of the Portland FBI office, said both Waldos were carrying more than $1,000 in cash when arrested at 5:30 a. m. in a Portland bus station. Parked near the station was a 1966 model car, which the brothers said they had purchased recently in Nevada.

The FBI reportedly made the arrests after receiving a tip on the car.

There was no indication today when the men might be brought back to Michigan. U. S. Commissioner John Erickson of Escanaba said that it is probable that preliminary hearing for the Waldo brothers would be before Commissioner Robert Bordeau of Marquette and that Ross, when caught, would be brought to Escanaba.

Escapes Jail

Bordeau issued the warrants for the Waldo brothers and Erickson issued the warrant for Ross.

Robbery of the Bark River State Bank by two armed men took place shortly before 3 p. m. Monday, June 27. They escaped with their driver in a 1966 Cadillac.

Ross was arrested in Superior, Wis., June 28 after a police chase involving Duluth and Superior officers. He had in his possession about $7,200 in cash and travelers checks.

After escaping from jail, Ross and a companion, Jerome O'Neil, 24, Superior, allegedly stole a 1966 Oldsmobile Toronado from a nearby garage. The car was recovered and O'Neil arrested in Missouri last week.

A man with O'Neil at the time of his arrest, believed to have been Ross, escaped arresting officers by pulling a gun.

Mexico Students Support Castro

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Nearly 3,000 university students paraded through Mexico City Tuesday night demonstrating in support of Fidel Castro and the Cuban revolution.

Chanting Castroite slogans, they called for "an end to U.S. imperialistic intervention" in Viet Nam. Hundreds of steel-helmeted police kept watch on the demonstrators and kept them away from the U.S. Embassy. There was no violence.

Housing Stalls Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders are withholding their support of a controversial open housing provision and may end up urging its defeat.

The compromise proposal, part of an omnibus civil rights bill now before the House, would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of housing but would exempt individual homeowners and agents acting on behalf of individuals.

The House GOP Policy Committee met Tuesday to take a stand on the provision. But it found opinion so divided that it postponed action until it can poll all Republicans in the House.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a news conference Tuesday night that the compromise would exempt such a large portion of the available housing that "there would be a grave question as to whether this section on housing would be of much value."

Wilkins, acting as chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, a group of civil rights organizations supporting the bill with certain changes, called upon the House to strike the compromise amendment and restore the open housing section to the form submitted by President Johnson.

Alternative Is Aid South Viet For 5-10 Years

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky gave the United States a choice today of aiding South Viet Nam another five or 10 years or invading North Viet Nam to finish the war.

Citing repeated Communist declarations to fight on as long as 20 years, Ky told a news conference on his regime's progress: "We have the patience but can we say the same thing of our allies? Are they ready to help us for five to 10 years? If not, we must destroy the Communists in their lair."

Reacting to the Johnson administration's repudiation of his suggestions for a military confrontation with Red China and a possible invasion of the Communist North, Ky, 35, declared: "There is no desire on our part to invade North Viet Nam. Our struggle is for our self-defense."

Requires Time

If South Viet Nam becomes strong and a democratic and economically sound example, he continued, "the people of North Viet Nam will turn their faces to the South and will overthrow the Communist regime. This second concept requires patience and time. This is the work of five, 10 or 15 years."

Ky spoke amid signs of increased guerrilla harassment in the Saigon area. The Viet Cong shelled the command post of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division at Cu Chi, 18 miles northwest of Saigon, for nearly two hours Tuesday night. Within minutes artillery, armed helicopters and F100 Super Sabre jets carrying napalm hit back. A spokesman said the Communist mortars and recoilless rifles caused only very light casualties in the U.S. tent city.

Raids Continue

Air strikes also halted the second attack in little more than a month on the Soc Trang airfield, a helicopter base in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon. A spokesman said the eight-minute mortar barrage by the Communists did not cause any casualties or damage.

U.S. raids continued on the Communist North and two more planes were lost, bringing the number of American planes reported downed over North Viet Nam to 310. Three fliers were rescued.

The premier and air force chief told the news conference that "the war will continue either as a battle of divisions and regiments or as guerrilla warfare or as sabotage and terrorism."

Must Destroy Sanctuary

"If North Viet Nam will not end its aggression," he said, "then decisive measures must be taken. Their sanctuary must be destroyed."

Ky said that when North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh vows to fight on for two decades "people go and plead with him and ask him to stop, but when I say we should invade the North people call me names and say I am bloodthirsty. This is an injustice done by free men to free men and it makes me sad."

Ky's statement was in reply to questions about his comment in an interview in U.S. News & World Report last week that "it is better to face (the Red Chinese) right now than in five or 10 years" and suggesting an allied ivasion of North Viet Nam.

Not Seeking Wider War

The pronouncements were in line with similar previous declarations by Ky and chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu but they touched off a storm in the U.S. Senate Tuesday. Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called on the Johnson administration to disassociate itself from Ky's statements.

A State Department spokesman commented: "Our position of not seeking any wider war has been repeatedly made clear and remains our position."

Escanaba Sidewalk Day - Shop Bargains 'Til 9 Tonight

Stock Investments:

Outlook Clouded By Tight Money

The selection of an investment firm "is a very personal thing" and should be approached most carefully, Escanaba Rotarians were told at their luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

The speaker was Arnold Walker, Milwaukee, of the firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Smith. He was introduced by John L. Greene of the club's program committee and the meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, Rotary president.

Walker, reviewing the market and commenting on what has happened since last year, noted that a boom and inflation are going and the stock market reflects this by a decline.

Outlook Clouded

"The tax reduction has overspent the inflation," said Walker as one of the factors explaining the situation. There is also the problem of the conflict in Viet Nam and the uncertainty that it generates for business, he said.

The economy also has a balance of payment problem and the large military expenditures and aid programs have encouraged the nation's outflow of gold, he said. Money is at high cost now, he noted, with corporate bonds at 5%, the highest figure in 30 years.

The investment outlook is clouded by tight money, federal controls and other factors, he continued.

For the individual who is uninterested in personally "trading" in the market, the selection of an investment firm "is a very personal thing."

New Members

"After choosing a physician, the choice of a man to handle your money is the next most personal thing," Walker said.

"And decide what your objectives are in the light of your temperment," he cautioned those who would like to delve into the technique of the stock market. Use the charts with judgement, he advised, for they are not a cure-all.

Isadore Stein, Rotary president, announced that District Governor Emory S. Rogers of Marion, Wis., will visit the Escanaba Club on Aug. 9; and that the next meeting will be at Rotary Camp Harstad on the bay shore.

Merton D. Jensen and John D. Besse were inducted into Rotary membership. The induction was performed by Edward E. Edick. John A. Lemmer and Robert Mosenfelder.

AID Officer Is Killed By Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes hammered at North Viet Nam again today while ground fighting remained at low ebb in the South except for sporadic guerrilla mortar attacks.

The raids on the Communist North cost two more American planes, raising reported U.S. aircraft losses there to 310. All three airmen were daringly rescued by U.S. helicopters after they bailed out over North Viet Nam's panhandle region.

U.S. officials announced that an official of the U.S. Agency for International Development, Norman L. Clowers, 50, of Tacoma, Wash., was killed in a Viet Cong ambush near Nha Trang. They said Clowers, a public safety adviser for five provinces in the central lowlands, was shot three times in the back of the head.

Clowers was the eighth AID official killed by the Communists.

Loggers Will Parade Sept. 10 At Iron River

Phases of the timber industry will compose the overall theme for the 21st annual Lake States Logging Congress, Sept. 8-10 at Iron River, Mich.

Jake Schinderle, president of Prentice Loader Sales, Iron River, and general chairman of the convention program, said that the exhibits, discussions, and demonstrations during the three day meeting will portray the relationship between the various phases of the timber industry, from the care and growth of the forests to conservation, timber production, milling operations and manufacturing.

Schinderle has spent nearly 20 years in the forest industry of Wisconsin and Michigan, selling and servicing equipment used by the industry. Through his travels, Mr. Schinderle is well acquainted.

Exhibits will be seen at the Iron County Fair grounds, site of this year's Congress. The timber industry parade will be staged at 2 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 10.

U. P. Highway Traffic Is Up

LANSING (AP) — Highway traffic in the Upper Peninsula for the first half of this year increased 10 per cent over the comparable period of 1965, compared to a statewide increase of 8.5 per cent, the State Highway Commission said.

Never Killed Man

SUPERIOR, Ariz. (AP) — Alex Arnett, 86, is running for re-election as constable in this mining town.

He's been sheriff or constable of the town for all but a few years starting in 1906.

"In all those years I never killed a man," he said recently. "A few were shot up pretty bad, though."

Holy Name Board Officers Named

At a recent meeting of the Holy Name Board of Education, Francis D'Amour was reelected president for the 1966-67 school year. Newly elected members of the Board, Charles Wanic and John Baribeau, were elected by Board members to fill the positions of vice president and secretary respectively.

Father Laurence Gauthier, superintendent, reported to the Board on the Developmental Reading Program under Title 1 of the Johnson Bill.

Two-hundred and twenty-two of the 671 public and non-public school children from K-12 are participating in the program held at Holy Name High, one of the three centers. The Board was informed that the program has been well organized under the direction of Louis Diedrich.

The Board decided to expend about $1,500 from the School's Auxiliary Savings to put all electrical and telephone wires underground at the rear of the school so that it would not interfere with the proposed parking lot in that area.

A review of the budget for 1966-67 was made by the Board and $131,151 was approved to finance Holy Name for this coming fiscal year. On the basis of the present enrollment of 550 students, the cost per student will be $238.46. The low cost per student is due in large part to the number of religious who staff the school at a yearly salary per teacher of $1,350, it was reported.

Questions were asked from parents in reference to how the school's operation is financed. Those present were informed that tuition charged students would supply $67,225 of this year's budget, while the 10 parishes in Delta County associated with Holy Name are directly assessed from their Sunday offertory collection for $63,926.24.

It was noted that peak efficiency regarding operational costs would depend on an increase in student population to about 650. The present building can handle a student body of 675 students.

Rear Admiral To Inspect Light Station

Rear Admiral Charles Tighe, Cleveland, commander of the 9th U. S. Coast Guard district, will arrive in Escanaba by helicopter at 5:30 p. m. today for an inspection of the Escanaba Light Station and Minneapolis Shoals light.

The commander is expected to stay at the House of Ludington, before continuing his tour of the district Thursday.

The 9th Coast Guard district encompasses most of the Great Lakes area.

B. M. C. Donald Sothoron, commander of the Escanaba Light Station, said the helicopter will land beyond the Escanaba Water plant on Sand Point.

Bonds Authorized

LANSING (AP) — The Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. received state permission Tuesday to issue and sell $10 million in first mortgage bonds. The company proposes to use the revenue to retire $2.9 million in short term bank loans and to finance its construction program, the Michigan Public Service Commission reported.

Bike Rider Is Hit By Auto; Condition Fair . .

The condition of Robert F. Smith, 11, of Bark River, is reported as fair at St. Francis Hospital where he is receiving treatment for injuries suffered when he was struck by a car in Bark River Monday evening.

The boy suffered a cerebral concussion, cuts and bruises.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said the boy, riding a bicycle, was struck by a car driven by Robert Wickstrom, 33, of Bark River.

Officers said that Wickstrom told them he turned to wave to a friend he saw at a gas station at the intersection and did not see the boy on the bicycle. State Police issued a court summons for violation of the basic speed law, driving too fast for conditions, to Wickstrom.

Dorman Raps Road Report

Downstate Press Criticized

Upper Peninsula Tourist Association has been continuing its interest in economic development of the U. P., says Ken Dorman, secretary-manager.

One of the projects that UMTA has been interested in for more than a year is the financing of new M-64 route from near Green to White Pine in Ontonagon County. "The Association, realizing the broad impact on the economy of the region, Michigan and the nation, has been active on various aspects of the project from its inception," said Dorman.

The Association presented some of the first testimony supporting the road to a committee of the Legislature.

Dorman Letter

Because the downstate press has criticized U.P. legislators, identified with a special state appropriation for the project, Dorman wrote the following letter to the publishers of major downstate dailies including the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press:

"The downstate papers have 'done it again.' They have failed to provide leadership and cooperation in their editorial copy and news stories to help unify Michigan and to assist the economy of the Upper Peninsula. I am particularly referring to your recent stories and editorials, many of which may have been fed to you by the publicity department of the Michigan State Highway Department, on the need for state funds for a re-routing of State Highway M-64 in Ontonagon County.

"You have tried to convey to your readers the impression that this road served only the interest of one major company. This, in a sense, may appear to be the case, but it is far from the truth. The product of this company is vital to the national defense program and welfare of the entire United States. We should all be aware of the fact that in the event of a national emergency, the U.S. would lose all of its sources of foreign copper.

Need For Copper

"The need for the discovery of this metal is so urgent that at the present time Assistant Secretary of the Interior J. Cordell Moore is recommending a 50% cost of eploration subsidy leading to discovery of new sources of copper.

"The road is essential for personnel coming from five or six surrounding counties of Michigan, and three counties in adjacent Wisconsin, to travel safely to and from their jobs. It likewise must be constructed to state specifications to handle the heavy trucking equipment necessary to travel the proposed new route.

"The Highway Department, if they were farsighted in their thinking, would be proposing that this new road become a re-routed M-64 and the old M-64 could either revert to the county or become a scenic road to service M-107 to the Porcupine Mountain State Park and the latter is a true example of a special interest road as it deadends at one of our state parks.

Help The U.P.

"It is tragic to think that the people of Michigan would expect a small county of 9,000 people to bond themselves for the next three generations to help supply an essential road to assist in developing one of the most vital natural resources for the defense of our country.

"Many times in the past I have had to vote to spend advertising money in your newspaper to promote the Upper Peninsula and I must say that the treatment accorded our legislative leaders from the U. P. and the scummy attacks that were made on their characters in some of your recent issues, is almost unthinkable.

"Your paper would be doing a much greater service to unify Michigan if it would devote its powerful influence to supporting worthwhile U. P. projects such as mining, lumbering and especially in the fields of tourism and recreation.

"The Milwaukee Sentinel of June 11, and July 9, carried full pages on the recreational advantages of the U.P."

Method Protested

The Detroit newspapers were critical of the action of U. P. legislators in sponsoring a special state appropriation from restricted gas tax and weight tax funds for the Tolfree Road in Ontonagon County to give worker access to new shafts of the White Pine copper mine. The public road is a century old but unfit to bear heavy traffic all year and Ontonagon County said it was unable to provide the $1.4 million sponsor share of a $2.8 million road reconstruction project and the State Highway Department said it didn't have funds either.

So U. P. legislators led by Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) obtained passage of a special state appropriation of $1.4 million for the project, bypassing the State Highway Department, which ordinarily allocates these tax funds, which are dedicated to major highway construction. The Economic Development Administration is providing the other $1.4 million. The appropriation is under a legal cloud.

Landslides Still Threaten Sicily

AGRIGENTO, Sicily (AP) — City engineers said today the landslide that left nearly one-sixth of Agrigento's population homeless July 19 has not completely stopped.

Slight movement of earth was detected in several sectors of this Greek-temple City, including the southwest portion that was hardest hit last week.

About 6,000 persons who fled 50 collapsed or dangerously damaged buildings have found shelter in large tents and with relatives or friends.

ELECT EARL WALKER!

Look at the record! Earl Walker, your candidate for State Senator, 37th District has a record worth looking at! He introduced tax exemption and medicare as well as the 50c fishing license for the aged. He introduced the 50% tax cut on your real property. Earl Walker introduced the tax cut for farmer's personal property . . . and made a friend of World War II veterans by proposing the bonus and G.I. Bill of Rights. Because of a resolution introduced by Earl Walker in 1960, the 1 year college at the Soo is today a reality . . . just one of many things that he has done to improve education. Earl Walker insists on more federal aid to primary and secondary colleges and schools . . . more educational opportunities for our young people. Yes, look at the record . . . and then cast your vote to continue this record. Vote for Earl Walker for State Senate in the 37th District. The preceding announcement paid for by the committee for Earl Walker for State Senator.

U. P. Spud Growers Look Ahead

Process Changes Industry

By J. L. HEIRMAN

Experts in marketing are predicting that over half the potatoes produced will be processed in another five years. This means less than 50 per cent of the potatoes will be sold for fresh consumption.

Processing techniques are becoming so sophisticated that people accept the potato products because they have quality. The change could have a real affect on potato marketing.

Some growers can see a more controlled market because of the processing. At one time all potatoes had to be marketed and consumed in a year because they were handled as a fresh commodity only. Now it is possible to have some carryover as processed potatoes.

The future of the potato industry should be bright in the midwest because of its population. Even potatoes produced in the Upper Peninsula do not have to go far after being processed to reach customers.

Of course we must remain competitive with other areas to stay in the business. We should be able to do this without too much difficulty because local growers have know-how in producing the potatoes.

We will see great changes in potato production in the next five years. We want to keep abreast of the program and see what farmers are doing that use a processing plant for marketing. On August a group of farmers plan to visit the Ida-Ora plant in Greenville, Mich., and also the farmers of that downstate area.

LANSING (AP) — Michigan has received nearly $70,000 from the U. S. Office of Education for nine graduate fellowships for advanced study in library science, the State Education Department said Tuesday. The fellowships will provide for study at the University of Michigan and Western Michigan University.

A SMALL BAR magnet seems to float in mid-air in a demonstration at the NASA Lewis Research Center at Cleveland, Ohio, where advanced magnetic research is under way. The bar is held up by interaction of its own magnetic field with the "superconducting" lead dish beneath it. Superconductivity is the loss of nearly all electrical resistance and total exclusion of magnetic field lines characteristic of lead, tin and some other materials at temperatures near absolute zero—minus 460 degrees. The lead dish was immersed in liquid helium at minus 452 degrees to achieve the gravity-defying effect.

Memorial Mass Is Held For 33 Bus Crash Dead

LIMBURG, Germany (AP) — Grieving parents from Belgium, whose children were among 33 persons killed in a bus tragedy, attended a simple memorial mass Tuesday in the Limburg Cathedral.

Altogether 27 children and 6 adults died in an early morning accident Monday when the bus crashed through an autobahn bridge guard rail and landed upside down 30 feet below on another road.

Ten children were injured, bound from a summer holiday in Austria and were mostly from police and foreign ministry families in Brussels.

Investigators so far have been unable to determine the cause of the accident.

Large concentrations of white marlin are found in the waters off Ocean City, Md.

Speck Indicted In Nurse Killing

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Speck, 24, indicted in the slaying of eight student nurses, faces arraignment Monday.

The Circuit Court's criminal division announced the date Tuesday after the grand jury handed down eight indictments charging the former odd-jobs man with murder.

The grand jury spent Monday hearing testimony then handed the indictments to Judge Edward F. Healy. Customarily, defendants are arraigned a week from the day indictments are returned. Judge Healy cautioned, however, that such procedure is subject to change.

Before the indictments were voted, Speck had been charged with slaying Gloria Jean Davy, 22, of Dyer, Ind. She is believed to have been the first of the nurses to die in the July 14 massacre.

Speck is reported to be recovering from a chest ailment and self-inflicted cuts.

Quack Grass KO Season Is Here

Now that the haying season is over many farmers will start working some fields with a field cultivator to kill quack grass. If it remains dry, as it is now, they will be very successful. By the first of September they will have the job completed.

"Do not leave the field lay naked until next spring," suggests County Extension Director Joseph Heirman. "If you do, wind and water erosion will take its toll. Plant the field to a cover crop. This can be any kind of grain like oats or rye. You can even do some pasturing on it after it gets about 6 inches tall. This can be important too, if fall pastures are short.

Our Vote On Schools

The State of Michigan has been pushing for school district mergers as a means of providing better schooling and Delta and Schoolcraft counties participated in an election on Monday which resulted from this state effort. Under a 1964 law the multi-county Intermediate School Districts created school reorganization committees to propose redistrictings.

There were four such proposals in Delta and Schoolcraft counties from the committee. Two proposals carried; two were defeated.

It is clear that this is only a step in the process of shaking our school districts into some bigger patterns that are better able to cope with the problems of providing good elementary and secondary public schooling.

* * *

Two of the basic problems of good school districting—and the basic reasons for consolidations—are:

1. Adequate student enrollment in a district offering kindergarten through 12th grade schooling so that a varied program of studies may be offered. (Various studies suggest that a minimum should be 1,500 or 2000 students.)

2. Adequate tax base to support a modern school system with ample texts, library, laboratory facilities, etc., and especially a qualified faculty.

* * *

Voters turned down the proposal to add Bark River-Harris District to the Escanaba Area District, 1,367 to 232. Even Bark River-Harris, whose board of education urged a "Yes" vote, could only muster a 127-127 tie.

It has been suggested that perhaps the issues weren't well understood, but the small votes indicate that they were and that where they were rejected they were very unpopular. Escanaba Area, for instance, voted down the merger 1,240 to 105, after its board of education urged a "No" vote because a "Yes" vote would imperil the district's voted millage for operation and create a building expansion need that the district doesn't relish at this time. Facing these hazards it was easy for Escanaba Area to rationalize that merger under these terms wouldn't be a very good thing for Bark River-Harris, either.

* * *

Gladstone, which has been upgrading its system with extra millage and bonding programs, didn't hanker much to hang out a welcome sign for five other districts, one of them — Rapid River—embracing three rural townships.

And the districts involved didn't hanker for it, either; they all voted against such reorganization. In pre-election statements spokesmen for several of the districts thought that consolidation was desirable and inevitable, but that it should have more study.

* * *

In East Delta the districts of Fairbanks, Garden, Nahma and Cooks elected to put all their educational eggs in the same basket. The last three have been operating high schools on very small enrollments and even with the merger the new school district will have only 700 to 800 students, which is far below the desirable minimum for a K-12 district.

The reasoning behind the "Yes" vote was: "It's not perfect, but it's better than what we've got!" The districts are so far from Rapid River (which itself was up for reorganization) and Manistique that a bus ride solution to the problem was judged undesirable.

* * *

Manistique voted to take in 6 township districts without high schools, which it already serves on a tuition basis, and three of the townships voted for it and three against. It carried 440 to 269.

* * *

The election carries consolidation one more step forward, reducing the number of school districts in Delta and Schoolcraft counties by half—from 20 to 10. But it leaves many problems unsolved.

While they have courageously voted to improve themselves by consolidating, the East Delta districts have not fully solved their good school problem, because they're still too few and too poor.

The Escanaba Area and Gladstone Area districts haven't solved their problems, either, only deferred them. If there's to be equal opportunity for our children of the two counties in quality of education there must be improvement of rural programs. The easiest way to accomplish it is to hook the rural district onto a city district, or combine enough rural districts into an adequate consolidation.

But there's a problem here much deeper than merely running city school district lines out into the country. It concerns numbers and means and it also concerns a concept of the importance of schooling in the adult community.

* * *

Bark River-Harris turned down an invitation to join Escanaba Area when it was being created. Unquestionably finances played a significant role in the decision; Bark River-Harris had had a dickens of a time financing its new elementary and intermediate school building, and it still needs a new high school.

In all the areas affected there has been a commendable increase in public commitments for schooling. But there must be even more and there must, at the state level, be a recognition of the facts of financial life in some of these rural districts. They reflect the low income of marginal farming today and need substantial state aids if they are to give their children a start on education comparable with that in more economically favored areas.

The city districts have an obligation to share their superior programs with rural districts for the public good, but it is unrealistic to ask them to water down and overcrowd their programs when they, too, feel the need for improvement in the great national educational competition.

Death of a Salesman

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER WHITE

Michigan State University's request for permission to operate a full-program medical school came as a surprise to some since its two-year human medicine program is just getting nicely started.

The initial program will begin with its first students this fall. It has been in planning for nearly six years and four years have passed since the legislature authorized its operation.

The formal request by the MSU Board of Trustees to the State Board of Education was actually probably very well timed.

* * *

As expected, the State Board told MSU President John Hannah the request will need study in terms of the overall medical education available in Michigan.

Study, as President Hannah well knows, can and frequently does involve a number of years before any result is seen in terms of a program.

Thus by asking now for permission to expand the new two-year pogram, Michigan State probably stands a good chance of handing out its first medical degrees to the students who are enrolled this fall in the limited program.

* * *

"People have regular checkups by their dentist or doctor, but they won't get regular checkups on their cars until the law requires them to," stresses Garnet M. Griffin, managing director of the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit.

Michigan's legislature was not quite ready to require regular safety checks as urged by Griffin and others this year, but it did take a step which the experts believe will eventually lead to mandatory auto inspections.

Traffic safety experts have claimed that states which do require periodic checkups of autos have seen a decrease in accidents.

* * *

Legislators were not convinced that mandatory inspections of all cars at state-approved garages would have such a beneficial result

A spokesman for the Motor and Equipment Manufacturers Association says that over 50 per cent of the cars on the road do not meet generally accepted performance standards for safety. The figure is based on the experience in 20 states which have safety inspection laws.

This was the 15th year the Michigan legislature was asked to pass a compulsory inspection law.

* * *

Doubters won out, but they did go along with a spot-check proposal to allow state and local police to establish temporary safety inspection stations.

Motorists stopped and found with mechanically defective autos can be ticketed and taken to court.

Since the bill was not given immediate effect, it will not be used until early next year. Within a year or two after its initiation, this spot survey method is expected to provide data on which the legislature can determine whether mandatory inspection would be of value.

* * *

LIKE THE REBELS CRY for the South, in Michigan tax reform will rise again.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency is making fiscal reform a major battleground against Gov. George Romney, although the GOP incumbent has largely ignored his opponent on this point to date.

Romney dropped his plea for tax reform this year in deference to lack of cooperation from the 1965 Democratic-dominated legislature. Since the treasury was in good shape to carry through the current fiscal year the pressure for reform was off.

* * *

WHEN HE ANNAUNCED he would not press a reform package this year, however, the Governor indicated the need would be present again soon, probably to make ends meet in the 1967-1968 fiscal year.

There were several indications last year that more Democrats might be inclined to get together with Romney on a reform program after the 1966 elections if they maintained their majority.

The November election will be the first at which the Governor and state senators are named to four-year terms.

* * *

ASSUMING THE DEMOCRATS maintain control of the 38-member Senate and 110-seat House, it would be easier to go along with tax reform in 1967 or 1968.

House member seeking re-election in 1968 could claim the Governor wanted reform and the Senate wanted reform so they were powerless to stop it. By the time the Senate members sought new terms, most of the electorate would be so used to the new tax structure they would have lost any anger-based intentions of "throwing the rascals out."

King Hammurabi of ancient Babylon engaged stargazers to decide the cost auspicious time to collect taxes.

Viet Cong 'Victories'

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The American official in from a central Viet Nam province was attempting to explain how the Viet Cong had taken over "model" settlements in his area.

The government had lavished large sums of money, scores of advisers and technical experts and military backup on the group of villages. In all, 30 "model" hamlets had been established in the local area by mid-1964.

Yet out of the 30 hamlets, the Communists took over 24 in less than two years. They did this without military attacks. The hamlets simply offered no political resistance.

The hamlets in this particular area were part of the government's land redevelopment program. Economically, the people were well off. The government cleared land for them, dug wells, brought in bulldozers and graders to clear and repair roads. The people were aided with free fertilizer, seed, trees and health facilities as well as schools.

With years of government aid, the people were actually quite prosperous compared with folk in the average Vietnamese hamlet.

"The Viet Cong started by bringing in political organizers," said the U. S. official. "At the beginning, these men simply went around talking and making friends.

"The VC tried to send in as agents relatives of people who already lived in the hamlets. These men contacted sympathizers who lived locally and drew out and trained some of these men and sent them back in. It was out of these groups that the VC built their local organization.

"Once they had won some friends and had a small underground organization going, they secretly moved in on the school teachers. They talked to them quietly, one by one, encouraged them to change their teaching to include large doses of Communist propaganda. The VC didn't go through the local government or the school administration. They just privately hunted out the teachers and worked on them with threats.

"The teachers who followed this Red advice were allowed to stay. Those teachers who refused to knuckle to the VC threats were terrorized until they fled or agreed to teach Red propaganda. The VC didn't control the government or any part of it at this time. They just moved in on the teachers and leaned on them.

"Then the Viet Cong infiltrated the youth farm organizations. They simply came in and took over the leadership. They did this by first getting their men in key posts and then by manipulating the meetings.

"The VC agents were very effective. The government men came and went, but you saw the Viet Cong men every day. He'd stop and talk to you about your problems, meanwhile getting in digs about the government. He'd talk about high taxes or official corruption. He'd sit or squat barefoot and talk right there in the dirt.

"He included many distortions and lies, but he sounded logical to the peasant who had felt the high taxes and seen the corruption—even if he was doing well."

The moral as this American official sees it is: "You can't change a people's loyalty by economic benefits—if they don't trust the government.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

The motto of the stinging insects (bees, hornet and wasps) is: "Live and let live." They will agree not to bother you if you don't bother them. Fair enough, yet every year many persons are stung.

In addition to the local painful reaction there is the much more serious generalized reaction in persons who incur multiple stings or who have become allergic through a previous encounter. This may be characterized by vomiting, chills, fever, shortness of breath, loss of consciousness and even death.

The best prevention is to avoid attracting the little pests. They will love your perfumes, hair spray and other cosmetics and, if you wear flowery prints they may mistake them for the real thing. Plain light colors do not attract them. When you are working outdoors or hiking you should wear slacks and long sleeves. It is wise to carry an aerosol bomb of insecticide in your car with which to welcome any insects that may fly in.

The honeybee is the only insect that leaves its stinger and its venom sac in the wound. Squeezing the wound will only force the venom more quickly into your circulation but a swift scraping of the wound with a knife blade or your finger nail will remove the stinger before much of the venom is absorbed.

Persons known to be allergic to bee stings should carry a special first-aid kit when there is danger of being stung. The first emergency measure when such a person is stung is an injection of adrenalin. Almost as good and much simpler is to place a tablet of isoproterenol (Isuprel) under the tongue. Don't suck or swallow it but let it be absorbed through the mucous membrances of the mouth. This drug will prevent swelling of the air passages and asphyxiation.

Prompt application of a thick paste of baking soda and water to the wound is also helpful in neutralizing bee or yellow jacket venom but, since wasp venom is alkaline, vinegar rather than soda should be applied to a wasp sting.

Desensitizing injections in the spring are recommended for all susceptible persons who are in danger of being stung. Such immunization is available for wasp as well as bee stings.

TAKE ANOTHER NUMBER

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—A telephone operator, Mrs. Bill Harrison, came on the line to help a man who had dialed an obvious wrong number.

"What number did you dial, please?" she asked.

"I want 4-0741," replied a male voice.

"There is no such number," Mrs. Harrison informed him.

"Oh my gosh," exclaimed the caller. "I dialed my zip code number."

Ann Landers

Boy Friend's Wallop Too Late In Coming

Dear Ann Landers: I am 20. My girl friend is 18. The problem is my girl friend's 15-year-old brother. This kid is completely out of control, and nobody does one thing about it.

When he sasses his mother she yells, "Dad, come and hit Clark." He yells back, "Hit him yourself. I'm busy." Then they get into an argument about who should hit Clark. Of course, nobody hits Clark and he wins again.

Last night, my girl and I were sitting on the porch and this kid came up from behind and cracked her over the head with the telephone book. I was afraid he had fractured her skull. I lost my temper and gave him a wallop across the back. He began to bawl and holler for his dad to come and whip me.

Both his dad and mother came running. They chewed me out for laying a hand on their son. My own parents said I shouldn't have hit him. Please tell me what to do in the future. Nothing but pain stops that kid.—PUSHED TOO FAR

Dear Pushed: You should not have hit Clark, but strictly between us, I'm glad you did. Somebody should have hit him twelve years ago.

Dear Ann: Three years ago my niece came to live with me after she lost her mother under tragic circumstances. The girl is an adorable, affectionate 12-year-old.

She is a good student but she dawdles and daydreams so much it irritates me. I have to help her get her clothes on in the morning or she'd never finish dressing. She pokes through breakfast and I almost have to spoon-feed her.

The child seems very happy with me. She has lovely friends and everything a young girl could wish for. I didn't have these problems with my own children. What am I doing wrong? Am I pushing her too hard? Please advise.—CLEVELAND

Dear Cleveland: The girl came to you when she was nine. Her patterns of behavior were pretty well set. Then, too, her mother's tragic death may have had a traumatic effect on her.

Something is off kilter. You should not be helping a 12-year-old get dressed. Obviously, the girl needs professional counsel. Call the Family Service Association for an appointment. Cleveland has an especially good agency.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm engaged to marry a captain in the Marine Corps. He is the most wonderful man in the world and I am very much in love with him.

Last week he told me some shattering news—he is still in love with the girl he went with before we became engaged. The girl broke up with him for a musician who later dropped her without notice and left town. My Marine said his pride would not let him call the girl although he has wanted to many times.

What shall I do? He has not said he will not marry me but I get the idea he is getting cold feet. Please advise. — GIRL WITH A HEADACHE

Dear Girl: If you think you have a headache NOW just marry a man who tells you he is in love with someone else. Give the Marine an honorable discharge. He wants out.

NY Central Is Testing Jets

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The board chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad says the New York Central Railroad's plan to scrap long-haul passenger service will take advantage of more lucrative "high-speed, medium-range service."

Stuart Saunders said the Pennsy also has been studying the problem of "long-range passenger trains which no longer serve the public need" but it has not come to a conclusion.

The New York Central announced Tuesday it plans to drop all long-haul passenger trains by the first of the year and replace them with high-speed shuttle service to compete with short-hop airlines.

The shuttles would link cities about 200 miles apart. The New York Central is experimenting with jet-propelled trains and said that "as technological developments occur we will adapt our service to the best of them." Last week the line tested an experimental jet-propelled car they said hit speeds of 183.85 miles an hour.

At a news conference in New York Tuesday, Wayne Hoffman, the New York Central's executive vice president said a federal survey showed that 77 per cent of all passenger trips made in this country are 200 miles or less and said, "We're going where the action is. It's in the 77 per cent."

The Interstate Commerce Commission would have to approve the dropping of the long-haul passenger trains, but Hoffman said he expected no problems there.

CHRISTINE ADAIR, assistant elephant trainer, rides high in this act of the King Brothers three-ring Circus. She is pictured with Carl Clair, trainer. The circus will show at the U.P. State Fairgrounds at 2 and 8 p.m. Thursday, July 28.

Circus Offers Day Of Thrills

Tomorrow is Circus Day for the Escanaba area. The three-ring King Brothers Circus will present performances at 2 and 8 p.m. Thursday at the U. P. State Fairgrounds.

The tents will open at 1 and 7 o'clock, and a menagerie is one of the circus features.

The Escanaba Jaycees are sponsors of the circus that will leave Marquette—it's last stand—for Escanaba. It will leave there at midnight and will roll into the U. P. Fairgrounds with the dawn.

Animal men, canvassmen, grooms, "cookhouse" crewmen and elephant handlers will first see that the cook and dining tents are raised and the field ranges are fired and cooking. Relays of men erecting the big top will recess in turn for breakfast, joining the animal and elephant men who will have fed their charges.

Long before noon the big show will be in the air, and the aerial rigging, the three rings, hippodrome track and the grandstands will be in place. There will be lots to see at the circus grounds early tomorrow. By 12 o'clock all will be ready for the matinee performance.

Heading the array of internationally known talent are the Roby Vanloos troupe, acrobats; Sarah Wheeler daring queen of the flying trapeze; the Canestrelli troupe, equilibrists and a herd of GO-GO elephants, plus aerialists, acrobats and gymnasts.

Altogether there are nearly 50 performers with the circus, including a small army of clowns. In the menagerie are a herd of elephants and wild animals.

Milk Production Continues Skid

The mid-July market report from Dr. John Ferris, agricultural marketing specialist at Michigan State University, notes continuing downward trend in milk production, an increase in the number of cattle on feed around the nation, and that higher feed prices will cut net incomes for egg producers.

Milk production in the first five months of 1966 was down 4-5 per cent, nationally; down 6 per cent in Michigan; down 7 per cent in Wisconsin; and down 10 per cent in Minnesota. This abrupt drop has been due to a combination of circumstances, all of which have encouraged a shift out of dairying.

A recent Wisconsin survey of dairy farmers who had quit showed 20 per cent left because of low income, 18 per cent because of age, and 14 per cent because of the high cost of modernizing or expanding their operations to remain in business. Health reasons were listed by 12 per cent.

Ten per cent of the farmers reporting disposed of their dairy herds because of feed shortages and another 10 per cent reported labor reasons. Eight per cent felt that dairying took too much time and labor, and 7 per cent quit because of loss of sons or hired help to industry, college or the armed services. Only 1 per cent said they quit dairying because of loss of market.

It is apparent from this survey that a high percentage of those who have left dairying are not likely to return even if milk prices do increase substantially.

Downstate Fire Ban Is Lifted

LANSING (AP) — After rains dampened the forest fire hazard at least temporarily — in Northern Lower Michigan, Gov George Romney lifted an emergency fire ban Tuesday.

Acting Gov. William Milliken banned fires and smoking, except in homes and authorized campgrounds, July 6 in the area north of U.S. 10 and east of M 66.

In lifting the ban, Romney warned that rainfall still is below normal and dangerous fire conditions can again develop quickly.

Michigan already has had 1,235 forest fires, burning over 11,230 acres, this year, compared to 580 fires over 2,132 acres by July 25 last year.

In the fire ban area, 1 to 1½ inches of rain fell Monday night, reducing the forest fire threat for about a week, said Warren Fitzpatrick of the State Conservation Department's forest fire section.

Farm Tour Offers Variety

Livestock, field crops, Christmas trees and mink—all will be highlighted at the sixth annual Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour in Menominee County Saturday, Aug. 6.

Visitors can see any or all of six selected tour farms in the morning, according to Richard T. Hartwig, agricultural economist for Michigan State University.

Then, after an 11:30 luncheon at the Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Birch Creek, the tour will swing to the 150-cow, 520-acre Phillbeck farm, five miles north of Menominee and two miles west on Elmwood Road. The program will include a discussion of the dairy business.

At 3 o'clock, three of the six farms that were toured in the morning will again be open to visitors.

The following is a run-down of the six farms. Note that the Veraghen, Berger and Berto farms can be toured at both 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., while the others will open only in the morning.

—Walter Veraghen, one-fourth mile south of Powers (a. m. & p. m.). He has 60,000 sheared Christmas trees. The tour will include a demonstration on weed control to reduce tree failure in planting and to increase rate of tree growth. There will also be a demonstration on improving tree coloring with green colorant spray.

—Felix Verbisky, two miles east of Nathan (a. m. only). Fifty steers are fed out each year using a farm-grown ration of corn silage, hay, home-grown grain and a purchased protein supplement.

—Charles Berger, one and one-half miles west of Bagley (a. m. & p. m.). A 57-stall comfort barn, which Berger built three years ago at nominal expense, milking parlor and an outdoor hay feeding lot will be featured at this stop.

—Oren Berto, one mile north of Talbot (a. m. & p. m.). He has four barley variety trials, a barley fertilization trial, an alfalfa fertilization trial, a corn fertility trial and a minimum tillage trial.

—Walter Menza, one mile west of Daggett (a. m. only). He grows 12 acres of foundation White Rural potatoes each year. The potatoes are certified and shipped to Colorado and other states for seed.

—Gerald Theuerkauf, one mile east of Hansen (a. m. only). This farm has over 5,000 mink, including approximately 1,000 females. Each mink is fed three times daily and eats about 100 lbs. of cereal and meat per year.

Local arrangements for the tours are being made by Gail Bowers, Menominee County Extension agent.

Coppolino Faces Court; Charged In Wife Murder

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, 34 faced arraignment today for the murder of his first wife, also a physician, with a supposedly undetectable drug. It is one of two murder charges against the doctor.

Arraignment in the death of Carmela Coppolino, 34, last Aug. 28, will be before Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth. Coppolino also faces a first-degree murder charge in New Jersey in connection with the strangulation death of a former neighbor, retired Army Col. William E. Farber, 52.

Coppolino was taken into custody Saturday on a warrant from New Jersey's Monmouth County grand jury.

He spent the weekend under guard in a hospital after complaining of severe chest pains.

A Florida grand jury indicted him Monday, after it received an autopsy report on the disinterred body of the first Mrs. Coppolino which indicated, according to State Atty. Frank Schaub, the presence of a drug.

Schaub said the prosecution "theorized" that Mrs Coppolino had been killed by a drug which was once thought to be undetectable after death and said the seven-month investigation was "medical pioneering." The drug was not named.

Senate Decries Aid To Reds By West Germans

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was back-the-troops day in the Senate and members responded by voting to censure an ally, West Germany, in the name of supporting U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

By a 56-33 vote, the Senate wrote into the foreign aid bill Tuesday a statement that Bonn's guarantee of financing for a privately contracted steel rolling mill in Red China is a grave blow to "the safety of American and allied troops" in the Southeast Asian conflict.

This represented an irritated response to lack of allied help in the war. But the overriding objective of those who supported the proposal was to get on the record with their backing for the men in uniform.

This was demonstrated when 14 Democrats and 10 Republicans whose seats are at stake in this year's election voted for what Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., called an insulting statement of censure.

Only three Democrats and two Republicans whose jobs are up for grabs in November backed the administration's efforts to avoid the congressional slap at Bonn.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., started the ruckus by proposing a flat condemnation of West Germany. Even after his amendment was adopted Byrd voted "no" when the Senate passed the aid bill, 66 to 27.

Motorist Denies Reckless Driving

Gene P. Smith, 18, of 302 N. 19th St., arrested after driving a car which he told officers he had modified for stock car racing, denied a charge of reckless driving in Municipal Court today.

City police arrested Smith on complaint of an Escanaba citizen. The reckless driving allegedly occurred on N. 18th and N. 19th Sts. about 4:39 p. m. Tuesday.

Failing to furnish $100 bond, Smith spent the night in the Delta County jail and was released without bond after entering a plea of not guilty to the reckless driving charge in Municipal Court. Trial was set for 10 a. m. Aug. 4.

Smith plead guilty to a charge of driving without a license.

Esky District Shoots Best

The conservation officers of District 3 are the sharpest shooting group in the Upper Peninsula, a shootoff at the U. P. State Fair pistol range Tuesday revealed.

Officers from the Escanaba District, which embraces Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger, won the top six places on the 7 man team. One alternate was also chosen for the team, which will shoot in the statewide pistol competition for conservation officers at Higgins Lake on Aug. 11 and at the U.P. State Fair Aug. 16.

The officers fired 30 rounds in the competition supervised by Bernard Stephansky, Marquette, regional law supervisor; and Robert Timmer, Escanaba district law supervisor, 10 rounds slow, fire 10 rounds time, fire and 10 rapid fire. Highest possible score was 300 and with 42 officers participating in the shooting, the following scored highest:

1. Albert Latasiewicz, Munising, 261.
2. Thomas Safford, Ensign, 253.
3. Willard St. Onge, Chatham, 244.
4. Frank Opolka, Escanaba, 242.
5. Charles Bowen, Ensign, 239.
6. James Walker, Gladstone, 238.
7. John Wormwood, Menominee, 235.

The alternate, in eighth place, is Ellis Barber, Laurium, 229.

Griffin Scores Fiscal Blunders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R - Mich., said today the Johnson Administration's "guns and butter" spending policies have superheated the economy.

The administration, he told a news conference, is "sitting idly by while consumers, builders, construction workers and prospective home owners parboil in the results."

"The American people find themselves caught in a tight money, high interest squeeze that is rapidly becoming one of the most serious problems in the economy today," Griffin said.

Discussing the issues in Michigan where he is seeking election this year to a full six-year term, Griffin said No. 1 is the war in Viet Nam and No. 2 is inflation.

Griffin said he does not look on the Viet Nam War as a partisan political issue, but it is the No. 1 concern to the Michigan people.

Asked what spending should be curtailed, Griffin said such things as the highway beautification program. He also said there should be a reevaluation of the space program.

He advocated holding the line on "pork barrel" projects.

During the War of 1812, James Monroe served as secretary of state and secretary of war at the same time.

DR. WILLIAM R. Purmort, has been appointed superintendent of Newberry State Hospital by Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, director of Michigan Department of Mental Health. Dr. Purmort has been assistant superintendent for the last 20 years and acting superintendent since last September when Dr. Richard R. Cameron, resigned to become director of the Shiawassee County mental health program. Dr. Purmort received his medical degree from University of Michigan in 1932 an top Post-Graduate courses in psychiatry at the University's Neuropsychiatric Institute. He has been on the Newberry staff for 32 years.

Letters People Too Rarely Get

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"I assigned my high school chemistry students the task of making an experiment on their own. Your smart aleck son Sam, who was flunking the course, decided he'd grow hair on a hard-boiled egg. Well, to my amazement, he did it. Strictly between us if his mixture works on people as well as it does on eggs, there may be millions in it as a cure for baldness. I wonder if you and I couldn't get together, form a quiet corporation with Sam and—"

"Bascomb, I certainly have lived to rue the day I turned you down and married Roscoe instead. After losing one job after another, Roscoe found steady employment as a carnival barker and then — JUST OUR LUCK — came down with a bad case of Bronchitis this summer. We are really on our uppers, and I'd appreciate it if, for old times' sake, you could lend us $25 until our ship comes in again."

"We at the Internal Revenue Service were deeply impressed by the clarity and brevity of your 1965 tax return. Would you be interested in helping us create a simpler tax form and also address a series of taxpayers' clinics we plan next spring? There would be a consultant's fee of $100 a day, plus a flat allowance of —"

"Jim, I'm sure the board would have a hard time deciding which of us to make the new president of the firm when they meet next month. Well, pal, I'm leaving the field wide open for you. I and my secretary, Maude, are tired of the big business rat race, so we are going to run away and start a little chicken ranch out in Nebraska. If my fat bossy wife asks you where I went, tell her Florida or Timbuktu."

"Daddy dear, I guess you won't have to borrow that money from the bank to send me on my educational trip to France when summer camp ends next week. As counselor I had to teach my kids how to make Indian arrowheads. Well, one of my brats hid an arrowhead under the blanket on my cot and I sat down on it and — well, I guess I'll postpone going to France until next year."

"And as Mabel is going to have our seventh child soon, we won't be able to bring the family for our annual visit. Sure hate to disappoint you, but know you'll understand that under the circumstances. What with the twins, Ned and Nadine, still down with the measles, that it would be better if —"

"So Lyndon and I just picked your names at random to fill out the guest list. You all be sure and come, now hear? Don't buy anything fancy to wear. Tell your husband in particular not to go and get all duded up, because after the church ceremony Lyndon would like his help in cooking up a real old-fashioned, finger-lickin' Texas barbecue in the White House back yard."

Sky Divers To Promote Shoot

A team of professional sky divers has been booked to promote public interest in the open trap and skeet field day of the Delta Sportsmen's Club Sunday, July 31. The club's shooting field and clubhouse are just off US-2 adjacent to the Delta Nursing Home.

Performing in an exhibition of parachute jumping will be David Leek of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base; Sonny Thoren, Marquette, and Warren Eaton, Champion. Jumping will take place in the afternoon.

H. W. Meiers, Jr., said "The team has a record of more than 600 jumps. Starting at a height of 7,500 feet they land within a 50 foot circle.

Shooting at trap and skeet, which is open to the public, will get under way at 11 a.m. Barbecued chicken dinner will be served.

Committee Plans Organization Of College Trustees

J. L. Heirman, Escanaba, chairman of the Bay de Noc Community College Board of Trustees, has returned from Traverse City where he attended a meeting of a committee working toward the establishment of a state-wide organization of community college trustees.

Heirman is the only representative on the seven-man committee from northern Michigan.

The committee is preparing to announce a first state-wide meeting of community college trustees to be held this coming fall, when the first officers of the organization will be elected and a program developed.

The association of community college trustees will be mutually helpful by encouraging a closer understanding of objectives and providing the opportunity for an exchange of ideas, Heirman pointed out. There are now nearly 30 community colleges in the state.

Driver Records Get Automated

LANSING (AP) — A machine that can read the ordinary printed word and translate it into computer talk will help the state keep track of its nearly 5 million drivers and save taxpayers an estimated $600,000.

Secretary of State James Hare said the savings over the next three years would result from elimination of manual key punching now needed to feed driver's records into computers.

"Ultimately, with additional computer capacity, all statistical information on a driver's record will be available to law enforcement officials in a matter of seconds," Hare said.

The new machine will be installed in late August, Hare said. He said it would take three years to convert all the records in Michigan's central driver files to computers.

G.M. Earnings Drop Nearly $100 Million

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturing concern, has reported sharply reduced second-quarter profits. The company said lower unit sales and higher costs were to blame.

Ford Motor Co.'s six-months earnings report was due today and Chrysler Corp. will announce its figures Thursday.

GM reported a drop of almost $100 million Tuesday for the second quarter as compared with the same period last year but company officials continued to forecast "another good year."

The giant company's earnings for April, May and June were given as $546,035,382 In the second quarter of 1965 the firm reported a record $638,460,046 in earnings.

However, sales for the quarter were off only 2.7 per cent from the previous second quarter. This year's quarterly sales figure was $5.501 billion, compared with $5.657 billion in the same period last year.

GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche explained the drop saying the early part of last year's production and sales increased abnormally as a reaction to strikes.

The officials also said second-quarter earnings were affected by lower unit sales, increased construction costs, and higher costs for labor, materials, engineering and tooling.

Earnings per share for the second quarter were $1.90 compared with $2.23 a share one year ago.

Board, Teachers Break Off Talks On New Contract

The Escanaba Area Board of Education and the professional negotiating team for the Escanaba Education Association broke off talks again Tuesday after failing to reach agreement on a master contract for the 1966-67 school year.

No further talks between the groups were reported scheduled.

The teacher negotiating team, in a statement issued today, said it "regrets that the stand taken by the Board of Education has led to an impasse in negotiations.

"The Board of Education has made a statement that no further offers will be considered. We do not believe that this is negotiating in full faith according to Public Act 379," the statement said.

The Board of Education issued no comment this morning.

Negotiations between the two groups have been in progress since Oct., 1965. Teachers in the school system have not been issued contracts for the coming year.

Senate Passes $2.06 Billion Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate turns to the military side of foreign aid today after raising warning signs to the administration and U.S. allies on its feelings about the aid program and the Viet Nam war.

It approved a $2.06-billion economic assistance program — $409 million less than the administration requested — by a 68-27 vote Tuesday. This was the largest number of nays to be cast against foreign aid in four years. It also sent a sharp rebuke to West Germany and by implication to other U.S. allies dealing with Red China or North Viet Nam.

The Senate agreed this year to break with practice and divide the aid program into separate bills covering military and economic assistance. The requested military aid authorization is $892 million.

Before approving the economic aid measure, the Senate wrote in a denunciation of a West German deal to build a steel mill in Red China, calling it a blow to the safety of American and allied troops in Viet Nam.

In so doing, it brushed aside warnings by Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., that the amendment "pointed a finger" at a friend and ally.

"The time has come for America to speak when her toes are being stepped on," replied Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I.

Delta 4-H Agent Wins Promotion

Delta County 4-H Club Agent Larry Bradford has been promoted and reassigned by Michigan State University Extension Service, it is announced by J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent.

Bradford has been 4-H agent here for the past four years.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has promoted him to the position of county agricultural agent in Manistee County in Lower Michigan. Manistee is Bradford's "home county."

A graduate of Michigan State University in the winter term of 1961, Bradford came to Delta County four years ago immediately after graduation. He is married, has three sons, and the family resides in the 700 block, S. 17th St.

His transfer to Manistee was made effective Aug. 1, but he will continue to work in Delta County through the period of the U. P. State Fair, Heirman said.

Succeeding Bradford will be Arthur Vassold, a native of Saginaw, who graduated three years ago from Michigan State University. Vassold was reared on a farm near Saginaw and taught vocational agriculture in the Saginaw Valley before accepting the position in Delta County.

Vassold is married and he and his wife are now residing at Masonville. He will work with the Extension Service here beginning Aug. 1 and aid in the supervision and operation of Extension Service programs during the U. P. Fair.

Thant Assured Soviet Backing

MOSCOW (AP) — U Thant has been assured the support of the Soviet Union for another term as secretary-general of the United Nations but says he has not made up his mind yet, informed sources reported today.

The sources said Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told that during a long talk Tuesday the Soviet government wants him to accept re-election when his current five-year term expires Nov. 3.

Thant was said to have replied he has not decided whether to be a candidate but would take the Soviet attitude into consideration.

Thant is to announce by early September whether he will seek re-election. Soviet support for another term had been reported from the United Nations as early as last April.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey announced U.S support of a second term for Thant last month, and Britain and France also have endorsed a second term publicly. With this lineup of support there is no doubt Thant can remain in the post if he wants to.

Historymobile Here This Week

Michigan's historymobile — a 50-foot museum on wheels — is stationed this week in Escanaba adjacent to the Delta County Historical Museum in Ludington Park.

The hours of the historymobile are from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. through Sunday.

The Delta County Historical Museum is also open beginning at 10 a. m. and in addition will be open evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. The historymobile closes at 6 p. m., however.

There is no admission charge and free printed information concerning the history of Michigan, including the booklet "Know Your Michigan" is distributed to visitors.

The historymobile is sponsored by the Michigan Historical Commission and contains 19 displays that cover the period of the state's history from earliest times to the present. The displays were prepared with the cooperation of 14 Michigan museums.

Kelley Seeking To Curb Cycle Accident Rate

LANSING (AP)— Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today he would try to develop a program based on law and voluntary cooperation to halt the "frightening rise in the accident rate" for motorcycles.

From 1964 to 1965, he said, the number of motorcycle and motor scooter registrations climbed by 66 per cent and the accident rate jumped by 91 per cent.

Kelley scheduled a series of meetings with law enforcement officers, motorcycle manufacturers, dealers and renters and representatives of motorcycle organizations to receive suggestions.

To meet the problem, he recommended a combination of voluntary action by motorcycle riders, tightened law enforcement, new laws and cooperation by the motorcycle industry to assist in safe use of the cycles.

Kelley said: "The vast majority of motorcycle, motor scooter and motorbike users are obeying the laws and acting properly.

"We must also observe that these vehicles have a proper and legitimate place in the total recreational activities of our population. In addition," he said, "the sale and rental of these vehicles is playing an increasing role in our economy.

"We cannot, therefore, direct our efforts toward a repressive program," he said.

Kelley said his department might develop a pamphlet entitled "Your Motorcycle and the Law," to be distributed to all motorcycle owners.

Michigan had 39,000 motorcycles registered in 1964 and 65,000 in 1965, with the 1966 total expected to be considerably higher.

The number of accidents jumped from 2,124 in 1964 to 4,067 in 1965. Kelley said final figures on fatalities were not available, but apparently there were more than 50 in 1965.

Fool Killer Getting Ready

U.P. Dump Bears Deadly

Nearly 20 years ago, a little girl was attacked and killed by a bear near Brimley in Chippewa County. People were shocked and enraged. The hue and cry was sounded by some northern residents to exterminate all bears in this part of the state.

Since then, particularly in recent years, it has been mostly a matter of exceptional luck that another bear killing — or at least mauling — hasn't made news in northern Michigan.

This threat of tragedy repeating itself is closely linked with what happened in 1948. There is good evidence that the little girl was killed by a bear which had lost its fear of humans from being fed by people at a garbage dump.

This summer, in many northern areas, especially above the Straits of Mackinac, these big burly animals are again being pauperized by people at garbage dumps, roadside parks, campgrounds, and regular bear-feeding stations.

Outdoor Show

It all makes a great outdoor show for tourists, but these people, in unwittingly making tramps of the animals, are toying with serious trouble both for themselves and for those who live in the north woods.

Just about every year, stories tell of how beggar bears, looking for more handouts, brazenly raid camps or move into farms and other areas where residents live. They literally scare the daylights out of people.

Worse than this, of course, is the danger to human lives. No one knows when these animals, so fearless of man, will suddenly snap out of their semi-tame shell and revert to the wild, potentially killer animals they are.

People put the burden of blame on bears but they are the ones, not the animals, who are asking for trouble.

They're Not Pets

Even more imminent than the bear threat faced by local residents is the one that hangs heavy over the heads of tourists who treat these animals like big overgrown pets at garbage dumps and other northern feeding places.

El Harger, Conservation Department game biologist who has been working on a special bear project for a number of years and who probably knows more about the animals than anyone else in Michigan, is worried and a little put out by the foolhardy antics that some people display at these areas.

Here, in his words, are some of the whacky things that he's seen at garbage dumps:

"When a bear appears, all of the sightseers jump out of their cars, cameras in hand, and rush toward Mr. Bruin as if to see who can be first to get clawed or chewed up. While one member of a carload takes pictures, others get into the act by feeding the bear.

On His Back Yet!

"Their idea is to get as close as possible. A marshmallow handed a bear gets the finger tips within one inch of the animal's mouth. One fellow didn't think this was close enough; he was feeding popcorn which brought his hand within a frightening half-inch of the big bear's jaws.

"Some people try a 'roulette-troika' in which two of them attempt to stand on opposite sides of the bear for picture-taking. Some of them have actually tried to set a child astride a bear's back for a picture!

"There was another case of living dangerously in which a man couldn't dole out marshmallows fast enough. The bear, being rather intelligent, went after the bag which the man held behind his back. Without realizing what he was doing, this chap tossed the bag into his open car. The bear almost muscled into the car with the man's wife and two kids, but fortunately someone else had enough wits to distract the animal with another goodie.

"I haven't seen anyone injured yet, but I wouldn't bet a plugged nickel that I won't before I'm through with this bear project."

Harger and other department game men would sleep a lot better nights if the feeding places for bears were completely closed. "These sites are potential death traps and we have zoos where people can see bears without the risk of being clawed or killed," says Harger.

For the time being at least, bear-feeding areas are part of the northern Michigan scene and to make the best of it, Harger is urging tourists to take these precautions:

"If you want to see garbage-dump bears or take pictures of them, do it in the safety of your car. Above all, don't feed the animals."

Each summer, tourists are enthralled by the sight of bears at garbage dumps in northern Michigan, particularly in the Upper Peninsula where most of these places are found. Some people try to get pictures of their children posing with the burly animals. Others give these wildlife beggers handouts. All in all, some people unwittingly get too chummy with bears for their own good. From time to time, there are cases in which tourists narrowly escape being mauled by these animals. Although they may act tame, garbage dump bears should be treated like the wild, potentially vicious animals they are. If you want to see these bears or take pictures of them, do it in the safety of your car. Above all, "Don't Feed The Animals." -- Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Both Guilty, So, No Divorce

LANSING (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Fish wants a divorce.

Oakland County Circuit Court wants to give her one. In fact, the late Judge Stanton Dondero said, "these parties should not only be separated, but should be compelled to live in different states."

The Michigan Court of Appeals wants to give her the legal separation she has been seeking since 1961.

"A more than ample record of the unpleasant carryings-on in the Fish household, together with the obvious deleterious effects on the children sheltered under that roof, leads us to wish, as did the circuit judge, that a divorce might be granted in this case," said Appeals Judge John Fitzgerald.

But both courts are bound by a state law that says that when only one party is guilty of certain offenses a divorce may be granted, but that when both parties are guilty of the same misconduct they must remain married.

The law reads, "no divorce shall be decreed in any case where the party complaining shall be guilty of the same crime or misconduct charged against the respondent."

The Birmingham woman tried once before to get a divorce, but was denied. The second suit ended in Dondero's judgment of no cause of action.

While testimony bore out the fact that her husband, Ellsworth Fish, was guilty of cruelty and "lack of proper support," Dondero said, "I am satisfied... that the plaintiff (Mrs. Fish) has likewise been guilty of acts that come within the contemplation of the case law decisons of this state.

"This is a double reason why these parties ought to be divorced, both of them being guilty," he added. "But the law of this state is otherwise."

New York City Bond Interest Cost Runs High

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City sold $112,925,000 worth of bonds Tuesday at a net interest cost of 4.6518 per cent, highest since 1932.

The only bid was submitted by a syndicate headed by the First National City Bank and the Chase Manhattan Bank, which bought the last previous issue of $241 million in bonds for 4.2447 per cent last April 28.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS made by Edward Brzygod of Chicago and Mrs. Arvid Sidbeck of Escanaba of the engagement of their daughter, Christine Linda of Rte. 1, Gladstone, to Bruce G. Pepin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pepin Jr. of Rte. 1, Escanaba. A September wedding is being planned by the couple. (Delta Studio Photo)

Sarah Prater Bride Of John R. Corcoran

St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, Calif. was the setting Saturday, July 23 for the wedding of Sarah J. Prater of San Rafael and John Robert Corcoran of Los Angeles.

The Rev. Hugh Hardin heard the solemn exchange of vows at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil E. Gordon of 30 McNear Drive, San Rafael and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Janet Stegath and the late Gordon Corcoran of Escanaba. Mrs. Stegath presently resides at 2828 Stoner Ave. in Los Angeles.

Peau de Soie

The bride chose for her wedding, a floor length empire styled gown of white peau de soie trimmed with seed pearls and lace and fashioned with kabuki sleeves. The sleeves and full length chapel train were also trimmed in seed pearls and lace.

Sculptured roses of peau de soie held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a bride's bouquet of mixed white garden flowers centered with white roses.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. William Folkins and serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Ross Mcgowan and Miss Patricia Snow.

Maize Crepe

They wore floor length gowns of maize crepe styled in the empire line and featuring Kabuki sleeves and button down backs. Their shower bouquets were of yellow and white Marguerite daisies and mixed garden flowers.

For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gordon wore a two piece suit of mint green silk with matching shoes and hat. Mrs. Stegath chose a two piece silk jacket dress of ashes of roses also with matching accessories.

Serving as best man for the wedding was Michael Golde and seating the guests were Richard A. Prater, brother of the bride, Ron Smith of Los Angeles and Craig Berry of Eureka, Calif.

Southern Coast

A reception was held in honor of the couple at Maple Lawn in San Rafael.

When the couple left for their honeymoon trip along the southern California coast, the bride wore a black and white print linen suit with a cut away jacket trimmed in black leather. A black patent leather bag and shoes and a black shantung silk hat completed her attire.

Following their wedding trip the newlyweds will reside at 11938 Dorothy St., Los Angeles.

The bride is a graduate of San Jose State College where she received a B. A. degree in Sociology. She was a member of Delta Gamma Sorority.

Mr. Corcoran received his B. A. degree in Advertising from San Jose College and was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity and Alpha Delta Sigma Advertising fraternity.

Mrs. Johnson's Gown Designed For Dancing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will wear a mimosa yellow dress for her daughter Luci's wedding Aug. 6.

The First Lady had some final fittings at the White House Tuesday with designer Adele Simpson of New York.

One thing Mrs. Johnson wanted to make sure was that she had enough room in the dress to raise her arms freely so she can dance at the White House wedding reception. "I have a tall husband," she reminded the designer.

The First Lady's two White House aides — Bess Abell, social secretary, and Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary — also will wear wedding costumes by Miss Simpson, who has been designing clothes for Mrs. Johnson for some time.

Luci, who will wear a traditional long white bridal dress, chose floor-length gowns in shades of pink moire for her bridesmaids.

Temperatures have been hitting the high 90s in Washington and the wedding planners are beginning to worry that moire may be quite hot to wear in the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. The big church where the wedding will be held is not air-conditioned.

The final round of parties begins next Monday when Ambassador and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman give a big evening reception to introduce the Washington diplomatic corps to Luci, her fiance, Patrick J. Nugent, and his parents, Mr and Mrs. Gerard P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

The elder Nugents are due at the White House Monday. They will remain as presidential house guests until after the wedding.

Personals

Airman third class John A. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fisher, 403 S. 8th St., completed 12 weeks in business administration at Amarillo Air Force Base, Amarillo, Texas. He will arrive in Escanaba Saturday for a 15 day furlough enroute to Davis Monthan Air Force Base in Arizona, Tucson, Arizona.

Mrs. Barbara Sergott and daughter Peggy of New York City are visiting with her mother and other relatives in the area. Mrs. Sergott is the former Barbara Erickson, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Erickson of 820 1st Ave. S., Escanaba.

MRS. HILDING JOHNSON of Gladstone announces the engagement of her daughter, Inga Lynn, to Kelly Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ray, 500 Ludington St., Escanaba. The bride-to-be is a 1965 graduate of Gladstone High School and attended Bay de Noc Community College for one year. Mr. Ray was a 1964 graduate of Escanaba High School and has been a student at Bay de Noc Community College for two years. No date has been set for the wedding. (Lee's Studio)

Hermansville

Members of the Hermansville Volunteer Fire Department motored to Menominee Wednesday night where they met with the Menominee Fun-O-Rama group to discuss the 72nd annual U. P. Firemen's convention which will be held in Menominee on Aug. 4-5-6.

The Meyer Township Board will hold their regular meeting on Monday, Aug. 1 at the Community Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Arduin Jr., have started construction of a new home in the village.

Judy Clausen To Be Bride In August

The engagement of Miss Judith Clausen to Marvin Anderson is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clausen of Rte. 1, Rapid River.

The bride elect is a graduate of Southern Missionary College, Chattanooga, Tenn., and has been teaching in the remedial reading at the Perkins School this summer. She has accepted a teaching position in Lansing this fall.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. John Anderson of Gwinn and the late Mr. Anderson. He is a graduate of Gwinn High School and attended Northern Michigan University. He is presently employed as a construction engineer for the Michigan State Highway Department.

Their marriage will be solemnized at the Riverside Seventh-Day Adventist Church on Aug. 14. Following the wedding the couple will reside at 326 Winifred St., Lansing.

Miss Judith Clausen

Soo Hill

Soo Hilltoppers 4-H Club held a cook-out Thursday evening at the Soo Hill School grounds. Each girl brought a nosebag lunch, refreshments and meat to grill. Games were played and after the cook-out the girls enjoyed a ball game in which the women and girls played the boys.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Horst, and daughter, Janalle and son, Donnie returned home from an extended visit. They visited their son, Devon, who has been a patient for two months in a Grand Rapids Hospital, and also traveled to Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Rev. Horst attended an institute in Virginia and visited his brother Leon in Quakertown, Penn.

Mrs. Paul Horst has left for Camp Wells where she is cook for girl scouts, July 24 to 29.

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have to use a walker to get around in my apartment.

As both hands are required to move the walker, I had to improvise some way to carry needed things from room to room.

I taped (be sure to use several thicknesses of tape to hold it securely in place) a small basket to the front bar of the walker and line it with foil.

Now I can carry my coffee to the living room, by placing the cup in a small, deep bowl (to catch the spills) instead of a saucer.

I can carry papers, magazines, sewing equipment, etc., in the basket.

This is a great help, especially since I live alone, and have to do things for myself. This idea might help others who must use walkers and wheel chairs.

Dear Heloise:

We had an old fashioned piano stool in the attic — which we had no use for (so I thought), but didn't want to throw it out.

It finally occurred to me what a wonderful dressing table stool it would make, so I padded the seat, and made a pretty slip-cover for it.

It's attractive and ideal, because I can just swivel it around to get a different view when I'm fixing my hair, putting on makeup, etc.

Dear Heloise:

I am a chef.

Any ad, or person who says a potato wrapped in aluminum foil can be B-A-K-E-D is badly mistaken!

A potato is 87% moisture, and will STEAM when wrapped in foil and placed in a heated oven.

Try this some time.

Wrap one washed potato in foil. Wash, core and lightly grease the skin on another.

Then... bake BOTH in the same oven at the same time.

You will find a world of difference in the flavor of the two potatoes.

Chef G. Mc

You are right as rain, sir. One was beautifully BAKED, while the other was steamed!

Thanks for tipping us off.

PLANK KRAUT AND FRANKS go together.

Kraut, Franks Hearty Treat

By Gaynor Maddox (NEA)

The Tartars originally brought kraut to Germany from China, where workers on the Great Wall enjoyed cabbage fermented in wine. The Germans named it sauerkraut and teamed it with the frankfurter, first made by a pork butcher in 1559.

Our kraut today is more evenly shredded and milder in taste.

KRAUT AND FRANKFURTER PLANKED DINNER
(Serves 6)

3½ cups drained sauerkraut
3 medium tomatoes, halved
1 can (8-oz.) whole white onions, drained
3 cups seasoned, mashed potatoes
12 frankfurters, scored
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Arrange kraut, tomato halves, onions, frankfurters and potatoes on plank. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Brush tomatoes, onions, frankfurters and potatoes with part of butter mixture. Pour remaining butter mixture over kraut. Broil 5-6 inches from source of heat 7 to 8 minutes, turning frankfurters and onions once during broiling period. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

Bois Blanc Isle To Get 'Phones

LANSING (AP)—Bois Blanc Island, a Lake Huron retreat for vacationers who want to get away from jangling telephones and other pressures of day-to-day living, will get telephones in 1967.

Year-around residents and conservation department employes who work on the island will welcome the close link with the mainland, said the Michigan Public Service Commission, which gave approval to the phone service.

The island is 10 miles east of Mackinaw City. It has 125 subscribers to electric power, and at least 47 persons are committed to order telephone service, the commission said.

The Beaver Island Telephone Co., which provides service on Beaver Island in Lake Michigan, will handle the new island service.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 37 of Minneapolis enjoyed a stop on its around Lake Superior tour this week at Gladstone. The 30 scouts in the unit chose to make the tour rather than attend a Boy Scout summer camp this year. (Daily Press Photo)

Planning Study Of Snow Tires

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley planned a meeting today to study whether studded snow tires would be beneficial or harmful to Michigan motorists and highways.

Questions include whether the studs would damage the highways, or fly out and cause other damage, and how much safety value they would have on ice and snow.

Secretary of State James Hare has asked Kelley whether use of tire studs would violate Michigan law.

Out of his meeting, Kelley said, "there may come a better understanding of what the problem is and what steps, if any, should be taken to meet it."

Kelley has invited Hare, legislators, state police, safety specialists, and representatives of the highway department and of the tire, auto and trucking industries.

Scouts Forego Camp To Tour

Boy Scout Troop 37, sponsored by Calvary Lutheran Church, Minneapolis, Minn. stopped in Gladstone Tuesday afternoon on a two weeks trip around Lake Superior.

Traveling in a chartered bus under the slogan, "World Brotherhood Through Scouting", the 30 scouts and six adult leaders are in the second week of their trip. Starting at Duluth, the group followed the north shore and spent two days in St. Ignace and Mackinac Island touring many of the historic and scenic spots in the area.

The boys, under the leadership of Elmer E. Fennert, scoutmaster, stopped at Van-Cleve Park for their noon meal and the leaders purchased a birthday cake, as one of the boys was observing his birthday. The group planned to spend Tuesday night in Iron Mountain and to make stops at Ashland, Hayward and Taylor Falls before returning to their homes in Minneapolis on Saturday.

The 30 boys range are 11 to 16 years old and decided to make the trip, using funds they had earned themselves, rather than attend the local Scout Camp this year. The bus carries 14 tents which the boys help to assemble each evening and take down in the morning before leaving the camp sight.

Accompanying the boys and scoutmaster Fennert are Hans Petersen, George Solovjovs, Antone Richter, William Elden and Elwood Kempter.

Bass Take In Big Bay Spotty

Northern pike and rock bass being taken from the Escanaba River at Dam No. 3 and some perch at the Escanaba Yacht Harbor, reports Robert Timmer of the Conservation Department. Ford River continues to produce some smallmouth bass on night crawlers, but the run is tapering off.

In the Ensign area bass fishing is spotty now with some good catches being made by St. Vitals Island and in Ogontz Bay. Lures and worms are being used. Also a few northern pike of large size and a few walleye are being taken.

Trout have retreated to the deepest holes they can find in streams. Water is very low in most streams.

In the Nahma area bass fishing has been good on Big Bay de Noc near the Fishdam Rivers and around Nahma. Artificial lures and natural bait work equally well. Bass fishing should continue to be good.

In the Rock area minnows are producing some panfish in Little Lake. Brook trout being taken on dry flies in the Escanaba River and Sawmill Creek. Water in area extremely low except in holes.

In the Gwinn area a few rainbows are being taken from Johnson Lake (Section 27, T45N-R25W) night fishing with light and corn. Some bluegills and perch from Little Shag Lake (Section 36, T45N-R26W) on worms. Small streams in area have dried up and major streams are very low.

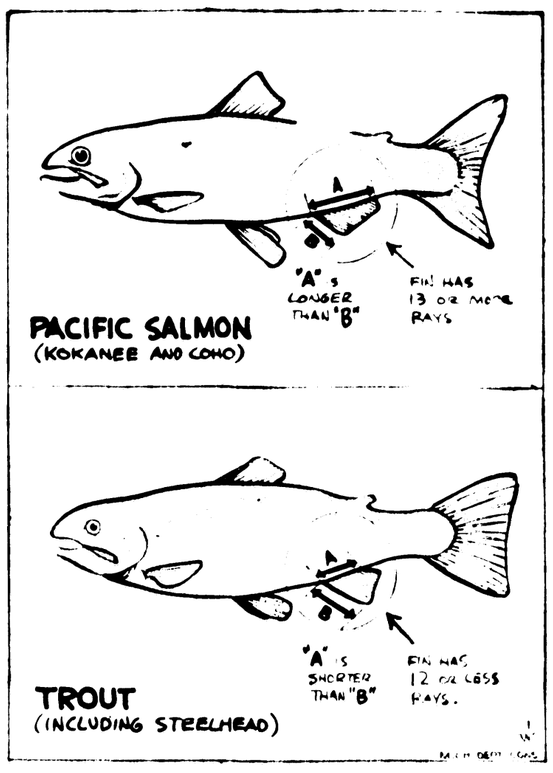
In the Munising area bass and Bar lakes yielding fair catches of panfish and bass with the latter giving up a few nice pike. McKeever, Grass and Pete lakes still yielding panfish, plus a few bass and pike from the first two named. Thornton Lake is spotty in producing bass and panfish but those yielded are of a nice size. Perch Lake is as good as ever for bluegills and bass. Some nice gills being taken mainly on red worms.

In the Chatham area a few brook trout are being taken from springholes on AuTrain Basin on nightcrawlers fished off bottom and a few from springholes, beaver dams on flies and grasshoppers on AuTrain River and Johnson Creek. Continued very good fishing for brown trout in AuTrain Basin using angle worms fished on bottom in the springholes and off mouth of Johnson and Slapneck creeks and the dam area.

Largemouth bass are starting to hit in AuTrain Basin on bucktail poppers and jitter bugs fished in weeds. Sixteen Mile Lake has been a fairly good producer of pike using live bait, daredevils, and Rapala both trolling and still fishing. Deer and AuTrain lakes also were fair on northerns. Very good success on jumbo perch in the AuTrain River south of M-28 both trolling and still fishing with worms and small minnows, along with Colorado spinner. Rock bass, perch, and sunfish hit well in the AuTrain basin on worms.

There is enough salt in the oceans to form a layer about 500 feet deep over the surface of the earth's dry land.

How To Identify Coho, Kokanee



UNDER ITS program to boost Michigan's sportfishing, the Conservation Department has introduced more than three million kokanee salmon in Torch and Higgins lakes within the last two springs. As part of this plan, this year plantings of about 800,000 coho salmon were made in three northern Michigan streams this spring. Now department fisheries men are eager to learn how the new fish are doing. This illustration should help fishermen tell kokanee and cohos from trout so they can report their catches of these fish. The kokanee released last year now measure four to six inches and some of them should be hooked this summer in Torch and Higgins lakes. Some of the early-maturing cohos may migrate up a few of Michigan's Great Lakes streams this fall. The best bets for their runs include the Big Huron River in the Upper Peninsula. Regulations are being drawn up to provide for the legal taking of kokanee and cohos. They are scheduled to take effect in August and will be liberal.

Tourists Like Gladstone Park

Wilderness Park is enjoying its most successful season this year and, according to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lilla, of Mt. Pleasant, Ill., rightly so.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilla and their son, Rick, and pet dachshund, Cindy, who are taking the trip around Lake Michigan with side trips to Mackinac Island and Sault Ste. Marie, and were generous in their praise of Gladstone and its Wilderness Park.

They agreed it was the nicest park they had visited and their visitations have included quite a few as they enjoy trips quite frequently in their well-equipped trailer.

Mr. Lilla is employed by Western Electric in Mount Pleasant and the family had planned a trip to Florida for this summer. Because the weather continued unusually warm they decided to head north. After hearing about Wilderness Park from other campers they made it a point to spend some time in Gladstone. The family shopped in Gladstone Tuesday morning and were pleased with the friendly atmosphere they encountered and thought the city was beautiful.

Class Of 1936 Reunion Aug. 13

Members of Gladstone High School Class of 1936 will hold their 30 year reunion at The Terrace August 13. The cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a Smorgasbord to follow.

The committee in charge of arrangements, Mrs. Richard Hammond, Mrs. Roy Hawkinson and Mrs. William Kaufman, have extended the reservation date from July 15 to July 30 and request that all class members living in this area who have not already made reservations to please do so at once.

Boys' Fun Day To Be August 4

The Boys Fun Day, sponsored by the Recreation Department, under the direction of Don Pfotenhauer, will be held Thursday, August 4, at Twin Springs Park. This will not be an overnight as has usually been held in the past.

Boys, having returned permission slips signed by their parents or guardians, will leave the recreation building at 9:15 a. m. and will return at 7:30 p. m. Each boy must bring his own lunch and supper.

Activities planned for the day will include the trip over and back by speed boats, water baseball, water football, water skiing, horse shoe, scoop and softball.

U.S. Rejects Soviet Charge On Treaty Draft

GENEVA (AP)—The United States Tuesday rejected Soviet charges that loopholes in the American draft treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons could lead to "nuclear war by proxy."

Soviet delegate Alexei A. Roschin has repeatedly alleged at the 17-nation disarmament conference that allies of the United States could get access to American atomic arms and trigger a war on their own.

U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the conference Roschin's charges seem "quite unreal."

"No nuclear weapon power could actually evade its responsibility by shunting on to some other state the actual firing of nuclear weapons," he said.

He added that if a nuclear war ever took place, it could only be because one of the nuclear weapon powers had decided that its nuclear weapons should be fired.

Negro Leaders Decry Use Of 'Black Power'

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro leaders have decried the use of the slogan "black power" in the civil rights movement, but all basically agreed that continued pressure must be exerted to provide Negroes with political, economic and social equality.

Eleven leaders appeared "live" on the WNBC-TV program, the "Today Show."

Buck Passer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Norman Green, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor in Arizona, says he'll distribute 500,000 "greenbacks" in the next three weeks.

The money-like paper will say: "Make this the last buck passed in Arizona."

Swimming Hours Changed; Many Tourneys Start

Swimming hours at the Gladstone Beach have been changed and will continue from 10 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. until further notice.

The recreation department has scheduled the regular activities for the coming week and will include the Tennis Court Dance with music by recordings from 9 to 11 p. m. Thursday and the comic exchange on Wednesday from 2 to 3 p. m. at the recreational building.

Tournaments have been scheduled at the Recreation Building in Ping Pong, Horse Shoe, Tennis, Checkers, Checker Pool and Football Derby. Those wishing to participate are asked to sign up at the recreation building by Friday, July 29. Trophies will be presented to winners in each division.

Lost and found articles, including watches, rings and swim equipment may be claimed at the recreation building.

Briefly Told

Wayne Verhagen of 804 S. 18th St., Escanaba, killed a deer with his car while driving on County Road 519 in Baldwin Township at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday, he reported to State Police. The deer was removed from the highway by another motorist. Under the law Verhagen, as driver of the car that killed the deer, had first claim to the animal.

Traffic court notices were issued by State Police of the Gladstone post to John Fults, Rapid River, no mud flaps on vehicle; Jack Posenke, Rapid River, no registration and no proof of insurance; Ronald Johnson, Rapid River Rte. 2, no chauffeur's license; Harley LaCarte, Cornell Rte. 1, no operator's license; Wallace Beauchamp, Escanaba Rte. 1, no mud guards and no proof of insurance.

GLADSTONE

MR. AND MRS. Ray Lilla of Mt. Pleasant, Ill., and their son, Rick and his pet dachshund, Cindy, are making a tour around Lake Michigan and they report that Wilderness Park at Gladstone, which is enjoying great popularity with visitors this summer, is one of the most pleasant stops they have found on their tour. Here the parents prepare to take Rick to the beach for a swim. (Daily Press Photo)

Testimonial Diners At Marquette

Cite Russell Leadership

More than 60 employes of the Russell Newspapers in the Upper Peninsula honored Publisher Frank Russell of Marquette at a testimonial dinner at the Northwoods Supper Club near Marquette.

The honor followed sale by Russell of his newspapers to Panax, a communications complex, which is now publishing them.

W. H. Treloar presided at the after dinner program which ranged from nostalgia about the three generations of Russell leadership in Upper Peninsula journalism to expressions of concern about the future of public communications.

Russell said "Everyone present is a member of the Fourth Estate, whether we like it or not. We're stuck. It is an exacting career, but it is a rewarding one. The old pros among you know what I'm talking about.

New Era

"Not one iota of my energy is going out of this business. There is a new era in publishing, but fundamentally things are not changed. We have an integrated group of newspapers and only our integration makes it possible for us to be here and to be prosperous and to stand up to our responsibilities.

"But to meet the challenges of the future we need amalgamation. It is foresight for the future. Everyone is going to be better off by taking advantage of all the elements of the communications media—electronic, educational—at our command to preserve the standards of the Fourth Estate and to upgrade them and protect their freedom.

Given Testimonial Gift

"The pressures of insidious forces in Washington and at home against freedom of communications are almost overpowering. I don't mean to incriminate the present administration or those which went before, but pressures are slowly eroding our freedoms through the courts and other developments. The only way to preserve a democratic system is to preserve a free press and by that I mean all the communications media. And I'm sure this effort for preservation is going to succeed."

Russell was presented with a silver tray signed with the vignettes of the three newspapers, the Marquette Mining Journal, Iron Mountain News and Escanaba Daily Press and inscribed "Presented to Frank J. Russell in recognition of his leadership in serving the Upper Peninsula."

Treloar, who is publisher of Panax newspapers in the Upper Peninsula, set a gay tone for the program with reminiscences of Russell's father, Frank Russell, Sr., when he was publishing the Iron Mountain News and Treloar was a new editorial staff recruit fresh from four years of teaching English in a country high school.

Well Remembered Goof

In one of his first composition efforts, said Treloar, he and Marino Pucci, a makeup man, put together a sport page in which a news story was "jumped" from Column 5 to Colum 4 instead of to Column 6. (News pages are made up in type backwards—lefthanded to print right handed — and such an error is natural, especially for beginners.)

"When the first paper came off the press Frank Russell Sr. came storming into the editorial office and he showed me the mistake and said "I hire an English teacher and I get a Chinaman!"

Lester S. Staples, business manager of the Iron Mountain News, brought its thanks to Russell for his years of leadership and Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Press, expressed its gratitude for the Russell years.

"We have had three generations of Russell publishing in the Upper Peninsula," said Worth, "beginning with James Russell's founding of the Mining Journal in an era of personal journalism marked by often vitriolic writing. Luther Noyes of the Marinette Eagle paid his respects in an editorial to the Appleton Post by stating 'There is a Post in Appleton which even the dogs shun!' and the Menominee Democrat said of the Menominee Herald: 'It says it's going to be printed by electricity, but at present it's printed with sewer gas.'

Enlarged Chain

"Frank Russell Sr., was strongly identified with the Iron Mountain News and Frank Russell Jr., with the Escanaba Press, because he bought it to add to the Russell family's chain of publications. It was a prestigious newspaper whose founder, John Norton, had given his personal fortune to the community and Frank Russell gave it added distinction and strength through association with his other newspapers.

"The period of his publishing career has been one of revolutionary change. Marquette used to be a community supported by iron mining and allied services and now it has the university and the air base and many new and challenging elements in the Mining Journal's readership. But with all the changes some things don't change and one of them is integrity. Frank Russell asked for his newspapers credibility built on integrity and it has ben an honor to work for him and with him."

Helped Peninsula

James Tretheway, veteran member of the Mining Journal editorial staff, told of the human side of Frank Russell and his concern for his employes. "All the people of Marquette—and of the U. P.—have reason to be thankful for Frank Russell," said Tretheway. "Think how long we might have been getting television if it were not for Frank Russell. I wrote that it would be 20 years yet, but we got it in 1956 because of him.

"We got artificial ice in the Palestra, tennis courts, a Shirras Pool change house and parks and other things because of Frank Russell. What man has done more for Marquette and the U. P. than he?"

The Escanaba Press was represented at the dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kaziateck, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur R. Whitburn, Mr. and Mrs. Bertel Stade, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. Jean Worth.

Britain Drops Precedent Rule

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords, Britain's court of last resort, has announced that it is abandoning "the binding force of precedent" in certain circumstances in order to make English law more flexible and up-to-date.

The announcement — made by Lord Gardiner, the lord chancellor — was described by some experts as a legal bombshell expected to have wide repercussions in British Commonwealth countries and possibly also in the United States, where English common law forms the basis of the legal system.

The lords ruled that, while they exempted themselves from the legal principles of previous similar cases, the rule of precedent still is binding on Britain's lower courts.

The doctrine of "binding precedent" has reigned supreme in the House of Lords for 66 years.

Committee Of House Postpones Action On Michigan Lakeshores

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee considered but took no action Tuesday on a Senate-passed bill to establish the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in Western Michigan and one to create a Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

When the Sleeping Bear Dunes bill was called up, Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., moved that it be passed over without prejudice to consideration at a later date and the committee agreed.

Later, the committee discussed the Pictured Rocks measure at some length but adjourned without acting on it.

Rep. L. W. O'Brien, D—N.Y., acting chairman, told newsmen later that neither bill would be considered futher by the committee this week.

Is Opposed

Asked why she requested passing over of the Sleeping Bear Dunes bill, Mrs. Reid said she is opposed to it.

A House Interior subcommittee on July 14 approved the bill to create the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore after adopting several amendments, including one to add North Manitou Island to the lakeshore. Another would eliminate payment to the state for any of the 8,373 acres which would be included in the area.

The Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., includes 46,100 acres in Benzie and Leelanau counties.

Asks Donation

The Sleeping Bear Dunes bill would cost the federal government about $9,500,000 to acquire private land and an additional $14,570,000 for development of recreational facilities.

When the bill to establish the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore on Lake Superior was called up, Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., moved to amend it by suggesting that any state-owned land within the area be acquired only by donation.

O'Brien said it would create a windfall for the state or the affected area if the federal government paid for any state-owned land within the lakeshore.

The picture Rocks bill would include some 67,000 acres. It would cost the federal government about $6,873,000 for land acquisition and $6,348,000 for development.

Changes Needed

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — The City Council was told recently some changes will have to be made in the municipal bathing ordinance which reads:

"All persons using either of the swimming pools shall take a cleansing shower bath in the nude. A bath after donning a bathing suit shall not be permitted."

The council was told that two of the four city pools have outside showers.

DANGER!
DON'T PUT SIGNS ON UTILITY POLES

Every day, linemen climb utility poles to help keep your electric service at its best. But many poles have become so covered with metal nails and staples that it has created a safety hazard. Linemen depend on their "spurs" cutting into the wooden pole to provide sure-footed climbing. But if there are nails and staples in the pole, there's a chance that a lineman's spurs will not dig into the wood. A serious accident can result.

"Please help our linemen to help you. Do not put signs on utility poles!"

Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules Against Milwaukee In Braves Antitrust Suit

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today overturned baseball's conviction on state antitrust charges and ordered a Milwaukee court to dismiss the suit.

The 4-3 decision said the State of Wisconsin was "powerless" to enforce its own antitrust law against a sport spread from coast to coast.

A federal antitrust suit has been pending since last year in U.S. District Court in Milwaukee.

The decision erased a finding by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller in Milwaukee that the National League and its members violated Wisconsin law in transferring the Braves franchise from Milwaukee to Atlanta at the end of last year.

U.S. Silence Cited

Judge Roller ordered the club to return to Milwaukee unless the league provided an expansion plan that would grant the Wisconsin city a new major league franchise in 1967.

The order had been stayed pending baseball's appeal to the state's highest court.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, said that he was unprepared to comment immediately on whether the state would take the dispute to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The majority opinion said baseball seemed to operate as a monopoly, but added that the silence of Congress in applying antitrust laws to the sport was interpreted to mean "there is to be self-regulation until such time as Congress decides that the public interest requires other control."

The opinion cited the famed 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision that baseball was not a business subject to antitrust regulation, and noted later rulings refusing to overturn that precedent.

Convicted In April

The National League and its 10 teams were convicted on the third day of the 1966 season of violating Wisconsin's antitrust law by moving the Braves to Atlanta and refusing to give Milwaukee a replacement club.

The league ignored a Milwaukee court's deadline to file plans to place an expansion team in the city in 1967 and was told it must return the Braves in mid-May. But that order was suspended while the appeal was being carried to the state's Supreme Court.

The case long has been considered likely to reach the U. S. Supreme Court, regardless of the course of today's decision.

The Boston-born Braves spent 13 years in Milwaukee before becoming the first club to bring major league baseball to the rich Southland. An economist testified during the month-long antitrust trial that the Braves' departure could cost Milwaukee as much as $18 million a year.

Cite 1922 Ruling

Milwaukee Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, who found the Braves in violation of Wisconsin law April 13, had ruled before the trial that his court had jurisdiction to try baseball. A U. S. District Court in Milwaukee had refused to block the trial.

Braves attorneys had cited repeatedly a 1922 U. S. Supreme Court decision that baseball at that time was not a business. It is that shield, considered by many legal sources to be weak with age, that would be threatened should the Braves dispute eventually reach the highest court of the land.

Packers Trade Jeter, Voss To Pittsburgh

GREEN BAY—Veteran defensive end Lloyd Voss and rookie tight end Tony Jeter were traded by the Green Bay Packers Tuesday to the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed "high draft choice."

Voss, 6-4, 260 pounds, was Green Bay's top draft choice in 1964. Jeter, brother of Packer defensive back Bob Jeter was the third round choice last year. Both played collegiate football at Nebraska.

Voss has been a reserve lineman for two seasons with the Packers, failing to win a regular job.

Earlier, the Packers announced the signings of linebacker Tommy Crutcher, halfback Elijah Pitts and kicker Don Chandler. Seven Packers still remain unsigned.

Kaline, Horton Return, Trigger Detroit Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Absence, they say, makes the heart grow fonder. And the Detroit Tigers should appreciate the return to the lineup of Al Kaline, absent since July 19, and Willie Horton, absent since July 24.

The two Tiger outfielders were back in the lineup Tuesday and collected seven of the Tigers' nine hits as Detroit beat Chicago 3-1 in the first game of a scheduled twi-night doubleheader.

The second game was called because of rain in the last of the third inning after the Tigers had taken a 1-0 lead.

In the first game Horton banged out four hits in as many at bats and drove in all three Tiger runs.

Kaline went three for four in his first full game since being sidelined with a hip injury.

The White Sox opened the scoring with a run in the third on a bases loaded walk issued by Mickey Lolich. But Lolich and Dave Wickersham stopped the Sox on three hits for the rest of the game.

The Tigers scored in the fourth when Norm Cash walked and Horton slammed a double to left-center then again in the sixth when Kaline singled and went to second as Cash grounded out. Horton followed with a single to right, scoring Kaline.

In the eighth Kaline doubled and came in with the final run of the game on Horton's single to center.

Kaline also scored the only run in the washed-out second game when he singled in the second, went all the way to third on a wild pitch and scored on Cash's sacrifice fly.

Lolich threw 100 pitches in five innings work but gained his ninth victory in 16 decisions when Wickersham stopped the White Sox on one hit and a walk in the final four innings.

It was not announced when the second game of the doubleheader will be made up. Earl Wilson is scheduled to pitch tonight and Denny McLain Thursday for the Tigers.

Ishpeming at Marquette

Rapid River faces the chore of defending its slender lead in the Lake Superior baseball league again Sunday in a single game at home against Skandia-Trenary.

The four teams in the league split doubleheaders last Sunday, Rapid River defeating Ishpeming 7-5 before losing 6-2. The split kept Rapid River a game ahead of Marquette, which lost to Skandia-Trenary 5-2 after winning the opener 11-0.

Punch Johnson was the winning pitcher in the first game against Ishpeming with help from Gordy Cantwell. Johnson led the Rapid River attack with three hits, while Warren Groleau, Doug Moss and Bob Bezzi each picked up two.

In the nightcap, Poly Viau, Bezzi and Leonard Nelson each collected a pair of hits, but Ishpeming scored four times in the sixth inning off Groleau to ice the victory.

Boucher, Friets Pasley Better Highland Par

Bob Boucher, Dave Friets, and John Pasley all dipped below par with scores of 35 in Tuesday's Twilight League action at the Highland Golf Club.

The Baumers and the Divot Diggers held their one-two position in the league, but the Turf Kings blasted back from fifth to third place with a sharp 9-point performance.

Besides their 35's, both Dave Friets and John Pasley shot 36's in their second rounds. Other low scores included a 36 by Jim Douglas, Jerry Sundquist 39, Dick Nelson, Jack Smith, Ward Stiemert, Ben Douglas, Ernie Flath, Aaron Raack with 40's.

Mead Nine Wins Babe Ruth Start

Mead rolled to a 10-3 victory over Hartmschfeger Local 632 Tuesday night in the opening game of the Escanaba Babe Ruth League tournament.

Tom Kangas pitched the victory and also picked up a pair of hits. Warren Nye and Bill DuBord also had two hits for the winners.

Roger Kramer Joins Vikings

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings Tuesday signed Roger Kramer, a free agent offensive tackle candidate from Kalamazoo, Mich., College and a four-year veteran of the Canadian Football League.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin said he knew little about Kramer "except he wanted a shot and we'll give him one."

Kramer is 6-feet-6 and 270 pounds. He played at Montreal, Ottawa and Calgary in the Canadian League.

The Merchants took over first place in the Escanaba Softball Association American League Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory over previous leader Bero Motors.

Bill McGovern handcuffed Bero Motors on only one hit and struck out 12 batters in going the distance for the victory. Lone hit McGovern yielded was an inside the park homer by Frank Trotter in the fourth inning.

The victory gave the Merchants a 12-2 record, against 12-3 for second place Bero Motors. Flat Rock is just a game behind the leaders in third place with an 11-3 record.

Standings could be shaken up again tonight, however, as Bero Motors meets LaFave's at 6:45 and the Merchants clash with Mead at 8:15.

Bero Motors took a brief lead Tuesday, scoring once in the opening inning on a pair of Merchants errors. The winners came back to tie the score in their half of the inning and moved ahead to stay with three runs in the second.

McGovern allowed only four baserunners in the entire game. Don Martineau paced the winners at the plate with two hits. He also scored two runs.

In the opener Tuesday, the Mustangs whiped Mead Juniors 17-8.

Frederickson Hurt, Lions Sign McCord, Ron Kramer

By The Associated Press

It was a hang-'em-up, bang-'em-up, cut-'em-loose day in professional football. The trade winds whipped up briefly, too.

The Boston Patriots announced Tuesday that veteran outside linebacker Mike Dukes has decided to hang up his gear. No reason for his retirement was given.

Most of the players cut loose were rookies, but most of those banged up were veterans—among them the New York Giants' Tucker Frederickson, the National Football League's sixth leading rusher last season.

One name-rookie cut was Andy Nelson, a nine-year NFL veteran, put on waivers by the new Atlanta Falcons.

Rams, Packers Deal

Four NFL teams were active on the trading mart. Green Bay traded veteran defensive end Lloyd Voss and rookie end Tony Jeter of Nebraska to Pittsburgh for an undisclosed high draft choice, and Los Angeles dealt a future draft pick to Philadelphia for rookie punter Jerald Circo from Chico State.

On the salary front, defensive end Dan's McCord, a 12-year NFL veteran, walked into the Detroit Lions' camp and signed, while Hank Greenwood, a 10-year NFL player, walked out of the Dallas Cowboys' camp over a salary dispute. The defensive back was traded to the Cowboys by Green Bay last June.

Other signings included veteran tight end Ron Kramer by Detroit and offensive tackle Roger Kramer, a four-year veteran of the Canadian Football League, by the NFL Minnesota Vikings. Kramer had been practicing with the Lions without a contract.

Fullback Hurts Knee

Dukes, who also played with Houston in 1960 when that club won the American Football League title, and the New York Jets, made his decision known to Patriots Coach Mike Holovak via telephone.

Nelson, 33, joined the Falcons as a free agent. He last played for the New York Giants after being an all-NFL defensive back with Baltimore in 1958-59.

Frederickson, a fullback, strained his left knee during a heavy scrimmage. The full extent of the injury was not known immediately.

NEW LINEBACKING coach Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions looks over a crop of the most probable candidates to take over his vacant center linebacker's job. They are Mike Lucci (53), Ernie Clark (59), Wally Hilgenberg (67) and rookie Bill Cody. (AP Wirephoto)

Motor Carts Barred In U. P. Golf Tourney

Use of mechanized golf carts will be prohibited in the Upper Peninsula Men's Amateur golf tournament scheduled Aug. 3-6 at the Escanaba Country Club and Highland Golf Club.

Tournament officials said today that carts will not be allowed under any circumstances.

Preparations for the annual tournament are continuing with new sand being placed in traps at the Country Club. Edges of traps have been cut sharply and traps dug out to insure clear definition between trap and fairway.

The tournament will be 72-holes of medal play with 36-holes of qualifying, 18 at each course.

Qualifying begins Wednesday, Aug. 3. Both golf courses will be open for practice rounds Tuesday, Aug. 2. Entry fee for the tournament is $10, including the annual banquet.

Speedway Links Challenge Pros

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Speedway's challenging new course is expected to pose varied problems for the field of 150 professionals and amateurs teeing off Thursday in the $92,000 seventh 500 Festival Open Golf Tournament.

Put at least the battle scene will be quiet—unlike past years when half the course was inside the giant Indianapolis Motor Speedway and auto testing provided racket to shred the concentration of the steadiest pro.

Only two of the pro tour's top 10 money-winners will oppose the par 36-36—72, 7,179-yard course.

Billy Casper, current official money leader with $81,000, has captured three tournaments this season, including the U.S. Open and the Western Open, both stroke affairs.

Frank Beard, seventh in the official prize list with $56,000 and winner of the New Orleans Open, also is entered.

Missing will be Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Doug Sanders and Lee Sander's PGA champion, Al Geiberger.

But 54-year-old veteran Sam Snead, who surprised the PGA crowd with his steady play last weekend in Akron, Ohio, is expected to make the tourney, along with Bobby Nichols, last year's PGA winner Dave Marr, Lionel Hebert and Jack Cupit.

A memorial tribute was held today during a special pro-am tourney for Tony Lema, one of golf's brightest stars who died with his wife in a plane crash near Munster, Ind., Sunday night.

TONY LEMA'S crashed plane lies in a water hazard on the Sportsman's Club golf course at Lansing, Ill., where it bounced after hitting the seventh green. Lema, his wife, Betty, and two others were killed in the crash. (AP Wirephoto)

Hottest Hitter In American? Bob Saverine

By The Associated Press

Tony O'liva is leading the league in batting, Frank Robinson has hit seven homers in the last eight games and Willie Horton is breezing along at a .500 pace for the last week.

So who's the hottest hitter in the American League?

Would you believe Bob Saverine?

Oliva rapped two hits, Robinson tagged his 29th homer and Horton had four straight hits Tuesday night but Saverine continued to set the fastest pace with three hits giving him 10 safeties in his last 16 swings.

Horton's four straight hits drove in all of Detroit's runs as the Tigers downed Chicago 3-1. Oliva drove in two runs with his 19th homer and raised his average to .331 as Minnesota defeated New York 6-3.

Orioles Lose

Robinson's 29th homer couldn't save Baltimore from a 7-4 defeat by Cleveland. Saverine helped Washington dump California 6-2. Boston rapped Kansas City 8-5 in the other AL game Tuesday night.

Horton, with 11 hits in his last 22 swings, has raised his average 21 points from .252 to .273.

Willie doubled home Norm Cash with the tying run in the fourth and then drove in other Detroit runs with singles in the sixth and eighth.

Mickey Lolich, who went five innings, got credit for his ninth victory with Dave Wickersham finishing up.

Frank Howard and Ken McMullen drove in two runs apiece for the Senators and Saverine contributed three singles and scored twice.

Howard, batting for Willie Kirkland, delivered a two run single in the third and McMullen tripled following hits by Ed Brinkman and Saverine in the sixth.

His 10-for-16 string has raised Saverine's average 30 points from .236 to .266.

Oliva Tops Snyder

Oliva, chasing a third straight hitting title, grabbed the batting lead with two hits against the Yankees. He ripped a two-run homer in the first and doubled in front of Don Mincher's run-scoring single in the seventh.

The hits lifted the Minnesota slugger's average to .331, six points better than Baltimore's Russ Snyder.

The Orioles came out on the short end of a long-ball duel with the Indians. Cleveland walloped five home runs—two each by Rocky Colavito and Leon Wagner and one by Fred Whitfield—to outmuscle Baltimore.

Robinson and Luis Aparicio homered for the Orioles, who still lead Detroit by a fat 11 games.

Joey Foy rapped two homers for the Red Sox and Dennis Bennett won his first game since undergoing arm surgery.

Lema Carried Golf Winnings

MUNSTER, Ind. (AP) — Professional golfer Tony Lema was carrying tournament winnings amassed since January when he was killed Sunday night in a private plane crash near Munster.

A Lake County, Ind., official said Tuesday more than $19,000 in uncashed checks was found in Lema's luggage.

County deputy coroner, Dr. Albert Willardo, said checks for $19,996 were found in a briefcase. The case and Lema's clubs were among the few pieces of luggage that were not destroyed in the crash.

Dr. Willardo said that other papers found with the checks indicated that Lema had a bank account in Dallas. The doctor speculated that Lema was waiting until he arrived in Dallas to deposit the checks.

Also found in the case were 1,049 English pound notes of various denominations. Their value was about $4,000.

The doctor said the checks and the golf clubs are being held in the county coroner's office, pending the arrival of the executor of Lema's estate.

Lema's wife, Betty, also was killed in the crash. The pilot, Mrs. Doris Mullen, 43, of Joliet, Ill., suffered head injuries in the crash and was killed instantly, Dr. Willardo said. The copilot, Dr. George Bard, 41, who suffered severe chest injuries, also was killed. Dr. Bard also was from Joliet.

Mackinac Race Victor Awaited

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Race officials were hurriedly computing times today to determine the winner of the Chicago-to-Mackinac yacht race as all but 25 of the 159-boat fleet had completed the 333-mile run from Chicago.

A winner will not be declared until all of the boats have crossed the finish here. First place is awarded on the basis of corrected time, allowing for class and size differences in the yachts.

Defending champion Blitzen was the first to cross the finish line Tuesday. The 56-foot cutter was a good five hours ahead of the second finisher Espro VI.

Blitzen, owned by Tom and Bill Schoendorf of Milwaukee, took 57 hours, 52 minutes and 36 seconds to complete the run up Lake Michigan.

Her corrected time was 55:05:39.

The 61-foot Espro, owned by H.S. Bangor of Chicago, came in with an elapsed time of 63:52:36, corrected to 61:14:00.

The largest boat of the race, 72-foot Mitena of Grand Rapids, Mich., was the third finisher. Mitena, skippered by Charles Bissell, had an elapsed time of 64:50:11. Mitena is the scratch boat and had no handicap.

Error Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Napoleon Lajoie is in baseball's Hall of Fame, but not for what he did on April 22, 1915. That's the day he set the American League record for the most errors in a game, booting five for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Dodgers' Ferrara Turns Swinger

By The Associated Press

Al Ferrara mastered Beethoven and Brahms when he was 16 years old. Now, he's finally coming of age as a swinger.

Ferrara, who gave up a promising future as a concert pianist 10 years ago for baseball but failed in two previous major league trials, stroked the key hit for the second straight game Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Philadelphia 3-2 and remained in the thick of the National League pennant scramble.

The husky outfielder's pinch-hit single in the ninth inning drove in the winning run, capping a two-run rally that extended the third-place Dodgers' victory string to five and left them 1½ games off the pace.

Giants Regain Lead

San Francisco regained the league lead from Pittsburgh with an 8-3 triumph over the Pirates as Gaylord Perry recorded his 15th victory in 17 decisions.

A year ago Ferrara may have regretted his decision to pass up the concert hall for the diamond. The 6-foot-1, 203-pound muscleman was finishing out the season at Spokane after blowing his second chance to make the Dodger varsity.

But Walter Alston gave the Brooklyn strongboy another shot this spring and Ferrara hasn't disappointed the Dodger manager.

In Monday night's 6-3 victory over the Phillies he ignited a decisive three-run rally in the eighth inning with a tie-breaking single. Tuesday night's game-winning hit boosted his batting average to .290 and his RBI total to 20.

Elsewhere, St. Louis nipped Atlanta 4-3, Cincinnati outslugged Chicago 9-6 and New York shaded Houston 5-4.

Jim Hart, hitless in his previous 18 trips to the plate, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning, sparking the Giants to their second straight victory over Pittsburgh.

Perry allowed seven hits, including Roberto Clemente's two-run homer, before giving way to reliever Bill Henry in the seventh. Henry and Lindy McDaniel checked the Pirates the rest of the way.

The resurgent Cardinals overcame a 3-2 deficit in the eighth on Mike Shannon's two-out, two-run homer and pulled out their eighth victory in the last nine games. Hank Aaron's 30th homer pushed the Braves ahead in the seventh before Shann n unloaded.

Mets Win Again

Deron Johnson's three-run homer climaxed a four-run uprising in the eighth, lifting the Reds past the Cubs in a game that produced six circuits. Billy Williams smashed two homers and Randy Hundley one for Chicago. Jim Coker and Tony Perez also connected for the Reds.

The Mets, who have won nine of their last 12, snapped a 4-4 tie on Ed Bressoud's run-scoring single in the sixth and held off Houston behind rookie Rob Gardner, who pitched four hitless innings in relief of winner Bob Shaw.

Sports In Brief

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Tom Stenke, star player for Brigham Young in 1957, has been named basketball coach at Westminster, Utah, College.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Mayor's Trophy game between the New York Yankees and the New York Mets on June 27 realized a net of $141,824.14 for the Greater New York sandlot baseball program.

ATLANTA (AP)—The Indian who dances in Atlanta's teepee when the Braves hit home runs has been named Chief Nockahoma.

The name was announced Tuesday night by the Braves, who pointed out that it was appropriate because Atlanta sluggers have hit 124 home runs, tops in the majors.

Bessemer Wins Babe Ruth Tilt

LINCOLN PARK (AP)— Two games were played in the Babe Ruth League Tuesday, both in the losers bracket. Monroe beat Berkeley 6-0 in the 11th game and Bessemer defeated Midland 3-0.

State Police Team Wins Pistol Competition

EAST LANSING (AP)—In a warmup for the annual national tournament at Camp Perry, Ohio, the Michigan State Police pistol team won all four matches in the police division in competition at South Bend, Ind., July 22-25.

Tpr. Richard Brantner of Jackson was the high individual scorer in the police division with 2638. Brantner placed fourth - over - all.

The Camp Perry match will be held July 31-Aug. 5. The Michigan State Police team is defending champion in the police division.

Citizenship Week Planned In Summer School

Citizenship week will be observed July 25-29 in summer programs for children in the city and rural area.

Local youngsters have been enjoying camping, tot lots, baseball, arts and crafts, swimming, science enrichment, educational trips, head start program, dramatics and instruction in basic skills.

All the programs have been funded by the nation, state or local governments. Faculty members working this summer felt the children should be aware that much of their summer recreation and education is the result of expenditure of tax money. It was decided that time should be set aside daily during citizenship week to promote a feeling of respect toward equipment and property utilized in the community and to develop an appreciation toward the community for support of the activities.

Police Will Get Camera For Work

The City Council Monday night passed a resolution to put property restrictions on a parcel exchanged for Jennie Putnam bequest property.

The transfer was approved by the Circuit Court.

Another resolution was passed giving permission to raze a building at 708 Steuben. The owner stated that this would be acceptable to him. He has a year in which to redeem the property.

Second reading of an ordinance to control motorcycles and motordriven cycles was tabled.

Condemnation of a bar building at 210 Deer St., was postponed to the next meeting at request of the owner.

An ordinance on grass and weed cutting on vacant lots and premises was introduced.

The mayor asked purchase of a camera for police department accident investigation.

George Frankovich inquired concerning a tax matter.

Briefly Told

The city band practices at 7 p.m., today, Wednesday in the east room of the high school.

Public Safety officers ticketed David D. Neadow, Ensign, excessive car noise.

Public Safety officers were called at 4 p.m., Monday to the Milton Lowery residence, 233 N. 5th St., when lightning followed wiring leading to an appliance. There was no damage.

State Police ticketed Leon A. Sova, Walled Lake and Terry Popour, Cooks, speeding, Edwin W. Moore, Ensign, improper backing and Carl F. Zeisler, Ann Arbor, non-stop.

Edmond Rostand based his drama "L'Aiglon," on the life of Napoleon II.

Mrs. James Potvin (Mincoff Photo)

Joan Ouradnik Bride Of James V. Potvin

Joan Elaine Ouradnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Ouradnik, Garden, became the bride of James Vernon Potvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Potvin, Van's Harbor, at 4:30 p. m., Saturday. The Rev. Joseph Callari officiated at the double-ring service in St. John the Baptist Church.

Marie Ouradnik, a sister of the bride was maid of honor. Mary Anne Deloria, a cousin of the bridegroom was bridesmaid. Lee Potvin, brother of the bridegroom was best man and Louis Lauzon, also a cousin of the bridegroom was groomsman. John Potvin and Schuyler Bartholomew Jr. ushered. Leda Marie Bartholomew was the flower girl and carrying the rings was Gregory Pelletier.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon over taffeta styled with long tapered sleeves and an arched midriff. Lavish appliques of alencon lace scalloped the scoop neckline and front of the bodice and skirt. The Watteau train was detachable.

Her shouldered-length nylon net veil was held by organza petals decorated with lily of the valley pearls. She carried a red rose and rosebud surrounded by pink carnations and trailing ivy.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length sleeveless dresses of satin lined crepe, in empire style. The maid of honor's was rose colored and the bridesmaid's, pale pink. They wore open picture hats in pale pink chiffon over net and carried bouquets of pink and white pompons.

The flower girl wore a floor-length sleeveless light pink dress of satin lined crepe and a small light pink picture hat. The ring bearer was dressed in a navy blue blazer with dark slacks and a navy bow tie.

The bride's mother wore a light aqua crepe suit with lace over crepe in the top, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of blue and white carnations.

Mrs. Potvin wore a pink print dress with white accessories. Her corsage was also of pink and white carnations.

A reception was held from 6:30 to 9 at Garden Corners Bar with music provided by Jery Gunville. After a trip in Upper Michigan the couple will live in Garden, where they have built a home.

Both are graduates of Garden High School. The bride also attended Bay de Noc Community College.

Court Affirms Romney Power To Fire General

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that Gov. George Romney had the power to dismiss Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald as state adjutant general.

Romney fired McDonald May 20, 1965, after a 93-hour hearing into reported irregularities in the Michigan military establishment. He said he found McDonald guilty of misfeasance, malfe asance and gross neglect of duty.

The governor said he acted under a section of the constitution giving him the duty to check into acts of public officers and the power to remove officers for gross neglect.

The court said the governor acted within his rights. It rejected McDonald's argument that, as a military officer, he should have been given a military court-martial.

DANGER!

Help Protect Our Forests From...

FIRE

Monday's rainfall was a step in the right direction, but was not nearly enough to ease the danger of forest fires. The sun-baked ground was so parched that the rain soaked in immediately, returning the forests to their extremely hazardous condition. Don't let your guard down...be careful in our forests...they take a lifetime to grow!

FOLLOW SMOKEY'S ABC's!

Always hold matches 'til cold

Be sure to drown all fires

Crush all smokes dead out

Please! Only you can prevent forest fires
